LET THE HEART BE BEAUTIFUL.

So the heart, the heart be beautiful,
I care not for the face;
I ask not what the form may lack
Of dignity or grace:
If the mind be filled with glowing thoughts,
And the soul with sympathy,
What matter though the cheek be pale,
Or the eye lack brilliancy.

Though the cheek, the cheek be beautiful,
It soon may lose its bloom,
And the lustre of the eye be quenched
In the darkness of the tomb;
But the glory of the mind will live,
Though the bloom of life depart;
And oh! the charm can never die,
Of a true and noble heart.

The lips that utter kindly thoughts,
Have a beauty all their own—
For gentle words are sweeter far
Than music's softest tone;
And though the voice be harsh or shrill
That bids the oppressed go free,
And soothes the woes of the sorrowing one,
That voice is sweet to me.

SUMMER EVENINGS.

Eventide is stealing softly
O'er the tranquil, lakeless, I read;
All around is sinking slowly,
Into deep and peaceful rest

Rays of sunset, gold and crimson,
That have brightened late the sky,
Blending with the deepening twilight,
On the hill and forests lie

In the dark blue dome of heaven,
Trembling shines the evening star;
Soon the moon her silvery radiance,
Sheds upon the scene afar.

Evening light and evening shadows
Fall as softly on the soul;
Waking saddened thoughts and holy,
With its magic, sweet control.

Thoughts of home and thoughts of heaven
Are as light within the heart;
Sin and sorrow are the shadows,
Of the landscape form a part.

There shall come a glorious morning,
When the sun's all-searching light
Shall dispel the dark earth-shadows,—
Make both world and spirit bright.

Miscellaneous.

Home's Bright Star.

A correspondent of the "Knickerbocker" thus writes:—"Though helpless and dependent, a little child has enough brightness in its eye, and gayety in its prattle, to fill a household with joy. When he awakes first at the "peep of day" and imprints kisses on his parents' lips, their fragrance is sweeter than that of the morn. The music of his voice is like the song of birds at the approach of light; his smiles more sunny than the first entrance of sun-beams into the room. His little arm-chair, on high stilts, is scrupulously placed when the fast is broken, and he is no unimportant member at the family board. During the day, how pleasant the pattering of his feet on the stair-case, his voice in the court-yard, his frequent bursting into the room with some new tale! At night he kneels down, clad in white, as before some holy altar, at his mother's knees, and his little prayers go straight to heaven from a child's heart.—Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings Thou hast ordained praise. Not unfrequent, when he sleeps, are the mother's pilgrimages to his couch, while under his long lashes and sealed-up lids the spirit of a cherub seems to dwell. But oh, if God, in His wise providence, should change that repose into the sleep of death, and the white flowers are placed upon his breast, in his little clasped hands, the tears which sparkle on his brow are bright, but perhaps the bitterest ever shed. Dear little C—— is dead! I remember the last time I saw him was on a beautiful evening in autumn. We all sat in the summer-house. The moon rose and the stars twinkled, and were reflected in the waves which beat below the cliffs. The child looked up to the brightest star of all, and said:

"Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How I wonder what you are!
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky."

His seemed like a prophetic voice. But a few moons have waned, and little C—— is now a star in heaven. Before he died, he sang the very strains which had delighted him, and he now sleeps in peace near the river's bank, where, in spring-time, the flowers shall bloom above him which he so much loved, and where they will not cease to be watered by a parent's tears. How many a bereaved heart will be touched by this!"

A Good Life.

The beauty of a holy life constitutes the most eloquent and effective persuasive to religion which one human being can address to another. We have many ways of doing good to our fellow creatures; but none so efficacious as leading a virtuous, upright, and well ordered life. There is an energy of moral suasion in a good man's life passing the highest efforts of the orator's genius. The seen but silent beauty of holiness speaks more eloquently of God and duty, than the tongues of men and angels. Let parents remember this. The best inheritance a parent can bequeath to his child is a virtuous example, a legacy of hallowed remembrances and associations.

☞Those that wish for what they have not forfeit the enjoyment of what they have. Set a just limit to your wishes, and when you have touched it, make a stand; happiness only begins when wishes end, and he that hankers after more enjoys nothing.

☞Some people imagine that it is very difficult to get rich. Nothing, however, could be more fallacious. All that's required, is to earn a dollar every time you spend ninety cents.

Value of Honesty.

An old trader among the Northern Indians, who had some years ago established himself on the Wis-eva, tells a good story with a moral worth recollecting, about his first trials of trading with his red customers. The Indians, who evidently wanted goods, and had both money (which they called shuneah) and furs, flocked about his store, and examined his goods, but for some time bought nothing. Finally, their chief, with a large body of his followers, visited him, and accosted him with—"How do, Thomas; show me goods; I take four yard calico, three coon-skins for yard; pay you by'mby—to-morrow;" received his goods and left.—Next day, he returned with his whole band, his blankets stuffed with coon skins. "American man I pay you now; with this he began counting out the skins, until he had handed over twelve. Then after a moment's pause, he offered the trader one more, remarking, as he did it: "That's it." "I handed it back," said the trader, "telling him he owed me but twelve, and would not cheat him." We continued to pass it back and forth, each asserting that it belonged to the other. At last he appeared to be satisfied; gave me a scrutinizing look, placed the skin within the folds of his blanket, stepped to the door and gave a yell, and cried with a loud voice: "Come, come, and trade with the pale face, he no cheat Indian; his heart big." He then turned to me and said: "You take that skin, I tell Indian no trade with you—drive you off like a dog—but now you Indian's friend, and we your's." "Before sundown, I was waist deep in furs, and loaded down with cash. So I lost nothing by my honesty."

A Word to Little Boys.

Who is respected? It is the boy who conducts himself well; who is honest, diligent, and obedient in all things. It is the boy who is making an effort continually to respect his father, and to obey him in whatever he may direct to be done. It is the boy who is kind to other little boys, who respects age, and who never gets into difficulties and quarrels with his companions. It is the boy who leaves no effort untried to improve himself in knowledge and wisdom every day; who is busy and active in endeavoring to do good acts towards others. Show me a boy who obeys his parents, who is diligent, who has respect for age, who always has a friendly disposition, and who applies himself diligently to get wisdom, and to do good towards others, and if he be not respected and beloved by everybody, then there is no such thing as truth in the world. Remember this, little boys, and you will be respected by others, and you will grow up and become useful men.

☞I heard an incident connected with the history of the North Church, in your city, the facts of which are not, I think, generally known, and it may prove interesting to your readers. It appears that towards the close of the revolution, the good people of the North Church found it necessary to make some repairs. They sent on to Boston, and purchased some nails, which in due course of time arrived, and upon opening the kegs, lo and behold, one of them was found to contain Spanish dollars. "This was a go!" The deacons assembled—held a consultation—and the result was, they wrote on to Boston and informed the merchant who made the sale that there was an error in shipping the goods. The merchant acting upon the principle of our banks of the present day, wrote back that he could rectify no mistakes—that the nails were bought and sold as they were; he bought them of a privateersman, and must let it stand as it was. The silver was melted up and made into a service of plate for the church, and it is in existence and used at the present day. The above was related to me by a gentleman, in whose family is a large goblet, made from the same silver, and you may rest assured that what I have stated is a fact.—Corres. of New Haven Register.

The Young Wife's Response.

"Why art thou sad, my love, to-day? What grief is frowning o'er thy heart?—Why dost thou droop and turn away, and why do tears unbidden start? When first I wooed thee in thine isle—thy Erin, emerald of the deep—I saw thee, sweetest, only smile, nor ever thought that thou could'st weep. The sun of summer lights the earth, the zephyr's kiss is on thy cheek, all nature calls thee back to mirth, then be not, pray thee, love, so weak." While I thus spoke, my bosom's queen, one deep, fond glance upon me stealing, exclaimed, "my love, you must be green; it's onions, sure, I'm after peeling."

☞Every school boy knows that a kite would not fly unless it had a string tying it down. It is just so in life. The man who is tied down by half a dozen blooming responsibilities, and their mother, will make a higher and stronger flight than the bachelor who, having nothing to keep him steady, is always floundering in the mud. If you want to ascend in the world, tie yourself to somebody.

☞One of the first things that seizes upon the attention of the traveler in Egypt, is the queer dishes which he meets with.—A friend writes us from Luxor that his first dinner on the Nile consisted of stewed hippopotamus and a broiled ibis. The next morning's breakfast consisted of cold crocodile, hashed camel, and the cold remains of a donkey. Intellectual food, perhaps, but not provocative of an appetite.

THE BEWITCHED CLOCK.

About half past eleven o'clock on Sunday night, a human leg, enveloped in blue broadcloth, "might have been seen" entering Deacon Cephas Barberry's kitchen window. The leg was followed, finally, by the entire person of a live Yankee, attired in his Sunday go-to-meeting clothes. It was Joe Mayweed, who thus burglariously won his way to the Deacon's kitchen.

"Wonder how much the old Deacon made by orderin' me not to darken his doors again?" soliloquized the young gentleman. "Promised him I wouldn't, but didn't say nothin' about winders. I'm afeard to move about here, 'cause I might break my shins over sumthin' or nuther, and wake the folks. Cold enough to freeze a Polish bear here. O, here comes Sally."

The maid descended with a pleasant smile, a tallow candle, and a card of Lucifer matches. She made a rousing fire in the cooking stove, and the happy couple sat down to enjoy the sweet interchange of vows and hopes. But the course of true love ran no smoother in old Barberry's kitchen than it does elsewhere, and Joe, who was just making up his mind to treat himself to a kiss, was startled by the voice of the Deacon, her father, shouting from his chamber door:

"Sally! what are you getting up in the middle of the night for?"

"Tell him it's most morning," whispered Joe.

"I can't tell a fib!" said Sally.

"I'll make it a truth, then," said Joe; and running to the huge, old-fashioned clock that stood in the corner, he set it at five

"Look at the clock, and tell me what time it is," cried the old gentleman up stairs.

"It is five by the clock," said Sally.

The lovers sat down again and resumed their conversation. Suddenly the staircase began to creak.

"Good gracious! It's father."

"The Deacon! by thunder!" cried Joe. "Hide me."

"Where can I hide you?" cried the distracted girl.

"O, I know," said he. "I'll squeeze into the clock case." And without another word, he concealed himself in the case and drew the door behind him.

The Deacon was dressed, and seating himself down by the cooking-stove, pulled out his pipe, lighted it, and commenced smoking deliberately and calmly.

"Five o'clock, eh?" said he. "Well, I shall have time to smoke three or four pipes, and then I'll go and feed the critters."

"Hadn't you better feed the critters fust, sir, and smoke arterwards?" suggested the dutiful Sally

"No, smokin' clears my head, and wakes me up," answered the Deacon, who seemed not a whit disposed to hurry his enjoyment

Burr-r-r-r—waiz—ding! ding! ding! went the clock.

"Tormented lightning!" cried the Deacon, starting up, and dropping his pipe on the stove; "what in creation's that?"

"It's only the clock striking five! said Sally tremulously.

Whiz! ding! ding! ding! ding! ding! went the clock furiously.

"Powers of marcy!" cried the Deacon. "Strikin' five! it's struck one hundred already."

"Deacon Barberry!" cried the Deacon's better half, who had hastily robed herself, and now came plunging down the staircase in the wildest state of alarm, "what is the matter with the clock?"

"Goodness only knows," replied the old man. "It's been in the family these hundred years, and never did I know it to carry on so before."

Whiz! bang! bang! bang! bang! went the clock again.

"It'll bust itself," cried the old lady, shedding a flood of tears, "and there won't be nothing left of it."

"It's bewitched!" said the Deacon, who retained a leaven of superstition in his nature. "Any how," he said, after a pause, advancing resolutely towards the clock, "I'll see what's got into it."

"O, don't!" cried his daughter, affectionately seizing one of his coat tails, while his faithful wife clung to the other. "Don't!" chorussed both the women together.

"Let go my raiment!" shouted the old Deacon, "I ain't afeard of the powers of darkness."

But the women would not let go; so the Deacon slipped out of his coat, and while, from the sudden cessation of resistance, they fell heavily to the floor, he darted forward, and laid his hand upon the door of the clock case. But no human power could open it. Joe was holding it inside with a death grasp. The old Deacon began to be dreadfully frightened. He gave one more tug. An unearthly yell, as of a fiend in distress, burst from the inside, and the clock case pitched head foremost at the Deacon, fell headlong on the floor, smashed its face, and wrecked its fair proportions. The current of air extinguished the lamp—the Deacon, the old lady, and Sally fled up stairs, and Joe Mayweed, extricating himself from the clock, effected his escape in the same way he had entered.

The next day all Appleton was alive with the story of how Deacon Barberry's clock had been bewitched, and though many believed his version, some, and especially Joe Mayweed, affected to discredit the whole affair, hinting that the Deacon had been trying the experiment of tasting frozen cider, and that the vagaries of the clock case existed only in a distempered imagination.

However, the matter being taken all, Joe was allowed to resume his courting, and won the consent of the old people to his union with Sally, by repairing the old clock, till it went as well as it ever did before

The Lawyer vs the Fool

Deacon Frost, a wealthy drover, residing in K., one of the most beautiful and flourishing towns in the Granite State, was taking a large number of selected beeves to the Boston market. It chanced that on his way thither, several of the stock belonging to Christopher Grant, an extensive farmer residing in an adjoining town, accidentally strayed among the drove of Deacon F. The Deacon, of course, not noticing the addition to his herd, could not be expected to separate them, and in time, all, including those belonging to friend Grant, were duly disposed of, (if not according to law, certainly according to his custom,) and the proceeds safely deposited in the pocket of the worthy Deacon.

It so happened, however, that Bill Dykes, better known as "The Fool," saw the cattle as they passed, and recognized Grant's.

"Bill," says Mr G., "are you sure it was my cows that you saw in Deacon Frost's drove?"

"Sure?" said Bill, "well now, I guess I are; I knows old Brindle and old Lopped-horns just as easy as nothin'. Hain't I driv 'em out of our cabbages more times than their pesky necks are worth, any how?"

When Deacon Frost returned home, he was waited upon by Mr. Grant, and requested to fork over a fair amount of the needful for the missing cows, which he politely declined to do. The result was that Counsellor Doney's services were invoked

The fool was the chief witness; and Counsellor Grey, of K., a man of some celebrity in his profession, was retained to defend the suit. The trial came on—Dykes was placed on the witness stand. Counsellor Grey interposed an objection to the witness being sworn, on the ground of incapacity, and proceeded to state to the Court that the witness was a perfect non compos mentis—in other words, a fool—and well known to be so by every body in that vicinity—that he had no definite or fixed idea respecting any thing—he could not give an intelligent answer to the most simple question; and, said Counsellor Grey, with emphasis, "I do not believe he can tell even who made him. If your honor please, I will put that question to him, that the jury may have an opportunity to see what a perfect imbecile he is."

Counsellor G., "William, look up! Tell us who made you?"

The fool, screwing his face and looking thoughtful and somewhat bewildered, answered, "M-o-s-e-s, I s-p-o-s-e."

"That will do. Now," says Counsellor G., addressing the Court, "the witness says he s-p-o-s-e-s M-o-s-e-s made him; that it is certainly a more intelligent answer than I supposed him capable of giving, for it shows he has some faint idea of the scripture. But I submit that it is not sufficient to justify his being sworn as witness in the cause. No, sir, it is not such an answer as a witness qualified to testify should give."

"Mr. Judge," said the fool, "may I ax the lawyer a question?"

"Certainly," said the Judge, "ask him any question you please."

"W-a-a-l then, Mr. Lawyer, who'd you spose made you?"

Counsellor G., imitating the witness—"A-a-r-o-n, I s-p-o-s-e."

After the mirth had somewhat subsided, the witness continued: "W-a-a-l now, we do read in the good book that Aaron once made a calf, but who'd a thought the darned critter could have got in here?"

Verdict for the fool!

☞An Irishman discovered a part of the wood work of a chimney piece on fire, that endangered the whole house. He rushed up stairs to his master, and announced the alarming intelligence. Down he rushed with him. A large kettle of boiling water was on the fire.

"Well, why don't you put out the fire?"

"I can't, sir."

"Why, you fool, pour the water upon it."

"Shure, it's hot water, sir."

☞During a recent performance of Shakspeare's Romeo and Juliet, at Marblehead, Mass., the fair Juliet's question, in the soliloquy before taking the sleeping draught—"What if this mixture do not work at all?" was answered by an urchin in the pit with, "then take a dose of pills." The effect upon the audience can be better imagined than described.

☞"Oh! mother," said a little child, "Mr. S. does love Aunt Lucy—he sits by her, and he hugs her."

"Why Edward, your Aunt don't suffer that, does she?"

"Suffer that? No mother, she loves it."

☞Every one must see daily instances of people who complain from a mere habit of complaining; and make their friends uneasy, and strangers merry, by murmuring at evils that do not exist, and repining at grievances which they do not really feel.

Speed vs. Wit.

A party challenged another who was notorious for his speed of foot, to run a race of a considerable distance with him, simply stipulating that the champion of the "foot course" should carry "ten pounds" weight of any article his challenger might choose to select. In all the pride of well tested powers, the champion cried "done" to the bargain; when, lo, and behold! his opponent selected—not only for the effectual impediment, but the most grotesque adornment of his competitor—ten pounds weight of full blown bladders! It is needless to add, that the man with speed of foot lost his wager to the man with speed of wit.

Just Discrimination.

Little Boy, whose appetite is refreshed by passing a confectioner's—"Ma, I'm so hungry, I are!" Affectionate but firm Parent. "You shall have some bread and butter when we get home, Charley." Little Boy—"I ain't hungry for bread and butter, I'm hungry only for candy!"

☞The happiest man in the world is supposed to be a "nigger at a dance." In our opinion this rule is too limited. A "nigger" is not only happy at a dance, but in every other position. A darkey may be poor, but he is never low spirited. Whatever he earns he invests in fun and deviltry. Give him a dollar, and in less than an hour he will lay seven shillings of it out in yellow neck-ties or a cracked violin. There is something in the African that sheds trouble as a duck would cold water. Who ever knew a "cullud pussin" to commit suicide? The negro is strongly given to love and jealousy; but has no taste for arsenic. He may lose his all by betting against a roulette, but he don't find relief for his despair as white folks do, by resorting to charcoal fumes or a new bed cord, but by visiting "de fair sex," and participating in the mazy influence of "de occiputal convolution of de clarinet."

☞Not long since at R—— a girl, pretty and accomplished, attended a ball. She at once attracted the notice of a two-legged animal, miscalled a man, who proposed to her as a partner in the dance. This individual had great respect for position in society, so after some conversation upon different subjects, he asked our young lady, what profession her father followed. She fully appreciating the motive, replied that he was a "wood-sawyer." This was altogether too much for the two-legged animal, and he bolted, not noticing his acquaintance again for the evening. The fact was the girl was the daughter of a wealthy gentleman who owned some extensive saw mills. The bolter subsequently found out how beautifully he had been taken in Christianity.

There is no true domestic happiness when Christianity is not the law of the family.—There is no security against perfidy and the breach of social compact, where the gospel in its restraining power is not felt. There is no political freedom, that is worthy of the name, where the law of the land is not coincident with the law of the Bible—the law of Christ.

☞Ignorance is a great substitute for paregoric. Show us a block head, and we will show you a man who can sleep twelve hours out of a dozen. Before you can make men wakeful, you must make them intelligent. If we owned the fee simple of a railroad, we would consider no person fit for a switch-tender who didn't take four daily papers and a weekly.

☞What a beautiful virtue is benevolence! It is a precious tie existing between man and man, children of one common Father—a tie wholly unaffected by difference of age, station, kindred, or country, and over which the artificial distinctions of a vain world have little power.

☞How many farm houses there are, frugal house-wives keep their pretty daughters and their preserves for some extra occasion, or for some "big bug" or other, until both are sour. This seems to us narrow and poor economy.

☞The most beautiful flowers are those which are double, such as double pinks, double roses, and double dahlias. What an argument is this against the chilling infirmity of single blessedness! "Be ye marry," is written on everything beautiful that the eyes rest upon—beginning with birds and [illegible], and leaving off with the apple blossoms.

TERRY AND HIS COURTSHIP.

OR THE IRISH SUICIDE.

Dr. Dixon, in his last "Scalpel," gives some professional reminiscences, under the head of Scenes of City Practice," from which we extract the following serio-comic sketch of "Love and Poison."

It is often difficult to understand our Irish patients; so strangely do the tragic and the comic seem to be combined in their erratic natures. A scene I once witnessed will never be erased from my memory. I have repeatedly had my gravity overcome by it upon some serious occasions, and have more than once been obliged to hide my face in my hands, to pass muster as a sane man.

A young Irish girl, with a wild shriek and an och hone, and ah, murthur, and halla-loo—hulla loo—poor Terry! Ah, why did I taze ye? burst into my office one evening, upsetting the servant, and actually laying hold of me with her hands.

"Ah, Docther, Docther—come now for the love of the mother that bore ye—come this minute; I've killed poor Terry, and never again shall I see him. Ah, murthur! murthur! why did I plague ye?"

Trying in vain to calm her, I hastily slipped on my boots, and almost ran after her to a wretched tenement some quarter of a mile off, and found the object of my patient's solicitation alive and kicking, with his lungs in the best of order, standing on the stairs that led to his miserable chamber, with a broken pair of scissors and a teacup in his hand, stirring busily the contents. It seems he had been courting my fair guide, and after the period she had fixed for her final answer to his declaration, she had bantered him with a refusal, which her solicitude for his life plainly showed was far enough from her real intentions. Before she came for me he had swallowed an ounce of laudanum, which he had procured of an injudicious druggist, and was now mixing a powder which he had obtained from another, who, knowing of his love affair, it will be seen, acted more judiciously, as Terry let slip enough to know what he wanted to do with the "rats bane" for which he inquired, and Biddy, a true daughter of Eve, had made no secret in the neighborhood that she valued her charms beyond the poor fellow's bid. As soon as she came near him, he, by some importune expression, re-excited her wrath, and she declared she would not marry him "if he went straight to the devil."

Poor Terry, in his red shirt and blue stockings, an attitude of the grandest kind, but covering, as we soon found, a desperate purpose, flourished his teacup, and stirred up its contents with the scissors, constantly exclaiming, "Ah! Biddy, will ye have me! Ye'll have me, will ye not? Divil a bit will I let the docther come near me till ye say yes! sure weren't we childer together, and didn't we take our praties and butther-milk out of the same bowl, and yer mother that's dead always said ye were to be my wife? and now ye're kapin company with that dirty blackguard, Jemmy O'Conner; divil take him for a spalpeen—ah, Biddy, will ye have me?"

Biddy's blood was up at his disrespectful mention of Jemmy's name, and she now declared with great earnestness she would never have him," when with an awful gulp, poor Terry rolled up his eyes, and with a most impassioned, yet ludicrous look at her, drained the cup, and fell upon his knees on the step; Biddy fell in strong hysterics!—The whole affair was irresistibly ridiculous, that I could scarcely forbear shouting with laughter. On observing the ounce bottle, however, labelled laudanum, and looking into the bottom of the teacup and finding a white powder, I went to the druggist on the corner to see what it was, and send his boy for my stomach pump, and procure a chemical remedy also, should it really prove arsenic.

To my great relief he informed me that he had given Terry a quantity of chalk and eight grains of tartar emetic, as he said he was [illegible] the [illegible] of the ounce of laudanum, [illegible] the neighbors knew that [illegible] driven him almost mad by flirting with Jemmy O'Conner. The young man [illegible] judiciously told him that the powder would make the laudanum sure to operate effectually. Terry inquired carefully "how long it would take," and begged all for her [illegible] the ritual should come.

My [illegible] was now over; I was in fine spirits. Sending the druggist's clerk for the stomach pump, in case the emetic should [illegible]. I awaited the result; for eight grains of tartar emetic, taken at a dose, would almost [illegible] the potatoes out of a dog. As for Biddy I let her lie, for I thought she suffered justly. My heart was always very tender towards the sex, and I generally expected a "fellow feeling."

In a short time it became evident that Terry's stomach was not so tough as his will; and he began to mingle long portentous sighs with his prayers, and to [illegible] freely. I gave him a wide berth, for I knew what was coming; and was anxious that Biddy should revive in time enough to witness his grand effort, for I expected some fun. But Terry was tough, and [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible].

"Ah! Terry, Terry! dear Terry! I'll have ye. Yes, I will; and I don't care [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] divil's [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]. Ah, what would my poor mother say if she was here? Och hone, och hone, &c. Terry, [illegible] what are ye doin? A party [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] this time as [illegible] as poor Terry. [illegible] ye now and use that black pipe ye put down the craythur's throat over the way, last summer. I'd take it myself, if 'twould do; but God knows whether I'd be worth the trouble."

As Terry had not yet cast up his accounts, and the stomach pump, all bright and glittering, was at hand, I determined to make a little more capital out of the case; and thrusting the long India-rubber tube down poor Terry's throat, with his teeth separated by means of a stick, and his head between my knees, I soon had the satisfaction of depositing the laudanum and emetic in the swill pail, the only article of the toilet at hand.

After years proved Terry and Biddy most loving companions. He never, even when drunk, more than threatened her "wid a batin;" and she never forgave "that devil's baby," poor Meg, for her cruel experiment on her heroic and devoted Terry.

Patent Lime Kiln.

We find in the Easton Argus the description of a patent lime kiln, erected in Northampton county, the invention of Mr. Schweder, of Rochester, N. Y., that seems to be a great improvement on the ordinary kiln. It is constructed very much like an iron furnace, is lined with fire brick, and is thirty one feet high, with a hopper on top, capable of holding a large quantity of stone, which keeps falling down into the kiln as fast as the lime is drawn out below. It will burn on an average, three hundred bushels of lime per day, and one hand can quarry stone enough to keep the kiln in operation. Nothing but wood is used in burning and three or four pieces of ordinary hickory or oak wood will last thirty or thirty-five minutes. Two cords of wood will burn between two and three hundred bushels of lime, and of a quality that is equal to the best Whitemarsh lime. The lime is drawn off every twelve hours.

A Curious Experiment.—A Frenchman, M. Herbert, has recently exhibited some curious experiments, by which plants are made to blow instantaneously. The means used, was a chemical mixture with which he watered the geraniums, which immediately began to open their buds, and in ten minutes the plants were in full bloom.—With a rose-tree he was, however, less successful.

Immense Tree.—The Sonora (California) Herald describes a cedar tree, lately discovered in Calavera county. This tree is thirty feet in diameter at the butt, and twenty feet in diameter at a height of one hundred feet from the ground. It is calculated to reach the height of three hundred and fifty feet, although a part of it has been broken off.—The discoverer, Capt. Hanford, is about stripping off the bark, in order to send it as a curiosity to the Atlantic States. It is now perfectly green, and in the best possible condition, not a limb decayed. It appears more like an immense and stately tower than anything pertaining to the vegetable species.

☞The following account of the method of catching mackerel will probably be new to many of our readers:

"The method of taking the mackerel is very simple. The vessel 'hove to,' and men are arranged on the windward side, as many as can conveniently stand from bow to stern. Each man is provided with four lines, but only two can be used in fast fishing. On each line is attached a hook which is sunk into an oblong bit of lead, called a 'jig.'—A barrel is placed behind each man, into which the fish are 'snapped' as caught, the jaw tearing out as though made of paper. Owing to this tenderness of the jaw, the fish must be hauled very carefully, though with great rapidity. One man stands 'midship,' throwing the bait, which has been carefully ground, to keep the fish about the vessel, while the hooks are baited with any tough substance, either pork rind, a piece of liver, or a piece of mackerel itself. When the fish bite rapidly no sport is more exciting—a dozen men will often catch from thirty to fifty barrels in an hour. When caught they are split, gibbed, scraped, washed in three waters, and then salted—the whole being done with astonishing celerity."

The Anglo-Saxon.

You can't find an Englishman or a Yankee who does not want to 'own the soil he lives upon. Give him ten acres, and he wants the next ten, and he is never satisfied with the amount he gets. We do not know but a dead Yankee, in his grave, would want to push into the tomb of the next sleeper. And so it is with them in States and Nations.—Philadelphia Ledger.

☞[The remark is not applicable alone to the Yankee portion of [illegible] people. The sort of acquisitiveness mentioned by the writer is common to the other branches of the Anglo-American race as well as the Yankees.]

Accident to an Infant.—One day week before last, Mrs. Baily, wife of Geo. Baily, of West Chester, [illegible] together for a short time a little child about [illegible] years of age and an infant four or five weeks old.—During the absence of the mother the child got hold of a bottle of washing fluid, and poured some of the contents over the baby's face and [illegible], causing the most terrible pain to the helpless infant. The child was thrown into convulsions by the poisonous nature of the fluid, and the skin came off the face and neck where it came in contact with them. The child is still in a bad condition, and its recovery is doubtful.

☞The horse thieves have been committing extensive depredations in [illegible] county [illegible], five or six having been stolen in the space of a few days.

A Daguerreotype for 50 Cents,

CAN be had at WEAVER'S GALLERY, in Chambersburg street. Pictures taken in all kinds of weather, and will be put up at this Gallery in all the different styles of the day, at prices varying from 50 cts. to $6. So now is the time for obtaining the cheapest likenesses ever offered in this place. Persons will find it to their advantage to call soon while the opportunity is before them, and in order to secure a satisfactory likeness, subjects are requested to wear dark apparel. Gentlemen should wear black, with black vest and cravat, and ladies should avoid dresses of pink and blue. Plaid and contrasting colors are very suitable for children.

I return my sincere thanks to my numerous friends for their past favors, and solicit a continuance of the same, hoping by strict attention to business to satisfy the tastes of all who may visit my gallery.

J. BATES

RESPECTFULLY announces to the citizens of Gettysburg and its vicinity, that he has just opened a

above the Watch-maker's shop of Mr. Frazer, in Chambersburg street, for the purpose of delineating "the human face divine," by means of the new and beautiful art of the Daguerreotype. Having a thorough scientific and practical knowledge of the truly wonderful discovery, he feels confident of producing a style of pictures superior to any ever before offered in this place. An opportunity is now presented, such as may never again occur in this place, of obtaining likenesses of Parents, Children, or other dear friends, executed by Nature's own pencil, and at once elegant and exact. He hopes, by strict attention to business, to share public patronage.

HAVE just returned from the Cities with one of the largest and most desirable stock of

FOREIGN & DOMESTIC

ever offered to the public. Having selected them with care, we feel assured that we can offer to those who favor us with their patronage, as choice and desirable an assortment, both as regards style, quality, or price, as has ever been brought to this market. Having purchased most of our goods from the manufacturers, we are determined to sell at astonishingly low prices, believing that the old motto, relating to small profits and quick sales, is true to the letter. Knowing that our stock will compare favorably with any in the county, we invite the attention of those about purchasing, confident that Bargains such as are rarely offered, can be secured by giving us an early call. Our extensive assortment, consisting of

DRY GOODS,

Groceries, Queensware, and Hardware,

of every variety, and at prices to suit purchasers, should be examined before purchasing elsewhere. We deem it needless to enumerate articles, as our stock comprises every article in our line. ☞Call early and select from the new Stock at the sign of the RED FRONT.

Having made use of the Compound Syrup of Yellow Dock Root, prepared by C. MORSE & CO., either ourselves, or in our families, and finding it to be a very salutary and effectual preparation, we do most cheerfully recommend it to the public as a very valuable medicine.

E. Bourne, Esq., Cashier National Bank, Providence, R. I.; A. W. Spencer, Esq., Cashier Lime Rock Bank, Providence, R. I.; Rev. Wm. Phillips, Rev J. B. Richmond, G. S. Jones, editor Providence Gen. Adv., Wm. Field, M. W. G. M., Cyrus Fisher, M. E. H. P., J. Hutchinson, G. S. Dex, V. J. Bates, Dr. Benj. Colby, and one hundred others of the most respectable families of Providence.

This certifies that I have for a number of years been acquainted with the composition and mode of manufacture of MORSE'S COMPOUND SYRUP of YELLOW DOCK ROOT. I have also been acquainted with its modus operandi in disease, and can say that in all respects it is admirably calculated to remedy that class of Diseases for which it was designed. It is especially valuable in INDIGESTION and all its attendant symptoms, it excites to healthy action the LIVER, removes Torpor, and inactivity of that Organ, and stimulates healthy action in all the system. As a DEPURATOR or purifier of the Blood it has no superior.

Still Greater Improvement in Grain Drills.

☞PRICE REDUCED TO SIXTY DOLLARS!☜

MOORE'S PATENT SEED AND GRAIN PLANTER.

THIS Machine was Patented July 2, 1850, and has received the highest premium at all the Exhibitions where it has ever been contested, including Newcastle county, Delaware, Agricultural Society, October 9th, 1850; Philadelphia and Delaware County Agricultural Society, October 17th, 1850; Maryland State Agricultural Society, October 23d, 1850, and October 24th, 1851; and Michigan State Agricultural Society, September 25th, 1851.

Is not liable to get out of repair, is exceedingly simple in its construction, will sow point rows in all irregular shaped fields, and possesses superior advantages to all others, in the ease and quickness with which it can be regulated to sow any desired quantity of Grain per acre, while the draft upon the Horses is 25 per cent. lighter, and consequently, with the same labor, can seed one-fourth more ground per day, than with most other machines now in use. The objection so common to Drilling Machines of becoming choked if the seed is not perfectly cleaned, is entirely obviated in the Simple and Peculiar Construction of this Drill, as white caps and short straw will not interfere in the least with

THE REGULAR DISTRIBUTION OF THE SEED.

It is warranted to distribute the seed evenly; to sow any quantity per acre commonly sown broadcast; to not cut or break the grains; to be well made with good materials and durable with proper care.

Having sold about 400 of the above Drills the past season, all of which met with the unqualified approbation of the purchasers; and after careful and thorough experiments which have resulted in still greater Improvements, we now feel warranted in saying that Moore's Patent Seed and Grain Planter improved, is superior to any other machine FOR THE PURPOSE. NOW IN THE MARKET.

Having made arrangements to furnish 1,000 of the above Machines for sale, the coming season, we shall be prepared, at all times, to supply orders without delay.

☞All orders addressed to the undersigned will warrant prompt attention.

Another Scientific Wonder!

GREAT CURE FOR DYSPEPSIA!

DR. J. S. HOUGHTON'S

THE TRUE

DIGESTIVE FLUID,

OR, GASTRIC JUICE.

PREPARED from Rennet or the fourth stomach of the Ox after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

"I DIGEST." Such is the true meaning of the word Pepsin. It is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming a True Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is Nature's own Remedy for an unhealthy Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It contains no Alcohol Bitters, Acids, or nauseous Drugs. It is extremely agreeable to the taste, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without acute distress. Beware of Drugged Imitations. Pepsin is not a Drug.

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water will digest or dissolve Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the Stomach.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE!

☞The Scientific Evidence upon which this remedy is based is in the highest degree Curious and Remarkable.

$500 CHALLENGE.

WHATEVER concerns the health and happiness of a people is at all times of the most valuable importance. I take it for granted that every person will do all in their power, to save the lives of their children, and that every person will endeavor to promote their own health at all sacrifices. I feel it to be my duty to solemnly assure you that WORMS, according to the opinion of the most celebrated Physicians, are the primary causes of a large majority of diseases to which children and adults are liable; if you have an appetite continually changeable from one kind of food to another, Bad Breath, Pain in the Stomach, Picking at the Nose, Hardness and Fullness of the Belly, Dry Cough, Slow Fever, Pulse Irregular—remember that all these denote WORMS, and you should at once apply the remedy:—

HOBENSACK'S WORM SYRUP.

An article founded upon Scientific Principles, compounded with purely vegetable substances, being perfectly safe when taken, and can be given to the most tender infant with decided beneficial effect where Bowel Complaints and Diarrhea have made them weak and debilitated; the Tonic properties of my Worm Syrup are such, that it stands without an equal in the catalogue of medicines, in giving tone and strength to the Stomach, which makes it an Infallible remedy for those afflicted with Dyspepsia, the astonishing cures performed by this Syrup after Physicians have failed, is the best evidence of its superior efficacy over all others.

THE TAPE WORM!

This is the most difficult Worm to destroy of all that infest the human system, it grows to an almost indefinite length, becoming so coiled and fastened in the Intestines and Stomach, affecting the health so sadly as to cause St. Vitus' Dance, Fits, &c., that those afflicted seldom if ever suspect that it is Tape Worm hastening them to an early grave. In order to destroy this worm, a very energetic treatment must be pursued, it would therefore be proper to take 6 to 8 of my Liver Pills so as to remove all obstructions, that the Worm Syrup may act direct upon the Worm, which must be taken in doses of 2 Tablespoonfuls 3 times a day. These directions followed have never been known to fail in curing the most obstinate case of Tape Worm.

HOBENSACK'S LIVER PILLS.

No part of the system is more liable to disease than the LIVER, it serving as a filterer to purify the blood, or giving the proper secretion to the bile; so that any wrong action of the Liver affects the other important parts of the system, and results variously, in Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, &c. We should, therefore, watch every symptom that might indicate a wrong action of the Liver.—These Pills being composed of Roots and Plants furnished by nature to heal the sick; Namely, 1st, An EXPECTORANT, which augments the secretion from the Pulmonary mucous membrane, or promotes the discharge of secreted matter. 2d. An ALTERATIVE, which changes in some inexplicable and insensible manner the certain morbid action of the system. 3d. A TONIC, which gives tone and strength to the nervous system, renewing health and vigor to all parts of the body. 4th. A CATHARTIC, which acts in perfect harmony with the other ingredients, and operating on the Bowels, and expelling the whole mass of corrupt and vitiated matter, and purifying the Blood, which destroys disease and restores health.

TO FEMALES.

You will find these Pills an invaluable medicine in many complaints to which you are subject. In obstructions either total or partial, they have been found of inestimable benefit, restoring their functional arrangements to a healthy action, purifying the blood and other fluids so effectually as to put to flight all complaints which may arise from female irregularities, as headache, giddiness, dimness of sight, pain in the side, back, &c.

None genuine unless signed J. N. Hobensack, all others being base imitations.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL AND GENERAL ADVERTISER.

Russia and Turkey.

PARIS, Monday, 6, P. M.—A private letter from Jassy, (Moldavia) of the 17th ult., states that the entire population were in the greatest state of uncertainty as to their future position. On the 15th, an extraordinary courier from St. Petersburg passed on his way to Bucharest and Constantinople. After his departure, the Russian Consul, M. Guirche, proceeded immediately to notify to Prince Ghika that the Cabinet of St. Petersburgh had again sent its ultimatum to Constantinople, with orders that if the Sublime Porte did not accept it at the end of eight days, the Russian Generals who were on the frontier would pass it, and immediately commence hostilities against Turkey; that, in consequence, His Highness, the Hospodar, must without any loss of time, adopt the necessary measures for provisioning the army, and for the transport of the baggage of the Russian troops; and that for this purpose the Consul General of Bucharest, M. Hultzinski, would repair to Jassy in three or four days to come to an understanding with the Prince. It was, on the other hand, known that since the 14th inst., a division of the army, amounting to 40,000 men, had arrived at Skoullani, which is about two leagues from Jassy, on the Russian side.—The number of troops may, perhaps, be exaggerated, but the letter states it as positive that the troops were encamped along the whole line of the Pruth.

The warlike preparations in Turkey are carried on with considerable energy. The news of the 18th, from Kalisch, is not without importance. The chief engineer of the active army, Lieutenant General Dahn, has arrived at Warsaw from St. Petersburgh. Courier horses stand saddled and bridled by night and day at all the post stations between St. Petersburg and Warsaw. The Lloyd has also a letter of the 14th from Brady. The writer remarks that Odessa letters do not touch on politics for fear of displeasing the Government. There is a complete stagnation in trade at Odessa as well as in the Danubian Principalities, and the foreign merchants in Jassy and Galetz are most anxious to get in their outstanding capital.

The Way Railroads are Built in Georgia.—The way railroads are made in Georgia, to us, has an air of novelty. The contract for the railroad from Brunswick to Thomasville, (136 miles long,) and the road from the latter place to Albany, Geo., 58 miles more, including iron, equipments and all, is only $13,000 per mile. Collins & Alexander, whose trade is making railroads in the South, are the contractors. They contract for these large jobs by the wholesale, and retail them out to the planters and others on the line. These planters subscribe for so much stock; give their notes, payable when the road is made, and then generally contract, under Collins & Alexander, on the section nearest their plantation, to furnish cross ties, and to do what grading is to be done; and this work being thus done by their negroes, pays their notes when due, with little or no outlay in money. The same firm have contracted to build a road, 28 miles long, from Thomasville to Tallahassee, Fla., where there is already a road to St. Marks, on the waters of the Gulf of Mexico. These roads are to be completed by July 1st, 1855.

The Madeira Protestants.—A letter from Madeira appears in the Presbyterian, from Rev. James D. Burns, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in that Island, giving an account of the persecutions of the Christian Portuguese. Mr. Burns says:

"The warm and affectionate reception which the first refugees met with from the American Churches, made a deep impression on their brethren who were left behind. Their native land, fair and fruitful as it is, has been to them, since they were called to the glorious liberty of the gospel, a house of bondage. They have learned to worship the God of their fathers in a way which their kindred and countrymen call heresy, and they have long been wistfully looking across the ocean to your hospitable shores, knowing that if they could but touch them, they would be both spiritually and politically free. Nothing remains but to assist as many of them as we can possibly provide for, to hasten their escape from the windy storm and tempest which is gathering. In another fortnight, we hope that about sixty will leave in a vessel for New York, and among them the flower & strength of the remaining Protestantism of Madeira."

An Extraordinary Discovery.—The attention of men of science, in Paris, has been drawn to an extraordinary discovery made in a neighboring department. A grave-digger, in throwing up some earth, came upon a body in a state of perfect preservation. On examination it proved to be that of an individual buried thirty-seven years ago. He had died from the effects of the bite of a mad dog. The shroud and the coffin had fallen to dust, but the body remained intact. This is the third exhumation made within twenty years, of bodies of the victims of hydrophobia, under similar circumstances; and it would really seem that they are beyond the reach of decomposition. The registry of deaths was consulted, and no mention of the embalment of the body was found.

Distressing Suicide of a Physician.—Dr. F. A. Beselin, a respectable German physician of Chicago, was recently prosecuted on a charge of taking improper liberties with a female patient. It was alleged that at the preliminary examination the female was shown to be of questionable reputation, and the charge to be unfounded. The Dr., however, was held to bail to answer at court, and since then, it is said, he has suffered greatly from mortification, and on the 5th inst., borrowed a pistol from another physician, and shot himself dead. He was a man of fine education, and his parents, who reside in Germany, are of the highest respectability.

Singular Death.—The Madison (Ind.) Banner says that, a German named J. W. Bayer was severely injured on the Fourth, by the explosion of a bundle of fire-works which he was carrying. They were ignited by a lighted fire cracker, thrown heedlessly upon them by some boys. He died the next day.

A Heavy Fine.—Alfred Bignold was fined $1,800, at Louisville, Ky., on the 6th instant, for renting his house to a female of bad reputation to be used for improper purposes.

News of the Slave Trade.

The N. Y. Times says that Capt. Vinus, Spanish captain of the slaver Lady Suffolk, is now in New York, the guest of a Spanish merchant, who has fitted out many vessels for various Cuban ports, at which, however, their arrival has not generally been very promptly announced. The Times adds:

The Captain makes no secret of his connection with the slaver Lady Suffolk, but is quite communicative as to the incidents, results and embarrassments of his voyage. He states that the precise number of negroes which he shipped on the coast of Africa was 1,189, and that he landed 1,059, having thus lost 130 on the passage. He attributes this large mortality to the fact that he experienced protracted and frequent calms on the way, and thus necessarily made a long passage. He states that he was alongside the coast of Cuba for several days, awaiting favorable opportunities to land his cargo, and that he was robbed of nearly 100 while they were on their way from the coast to the several plantations among which they were distributed. It will be remembered that M. Zulueta received the largest portion of the slaves, nearly six hundred being sent to his plantation, while four hundred were assigned to M. Abreu, who lives at Havana, but who has not yet been arrested by the Captain General. Captain Vinus thinks that Gen. Canedo is in earnest in his determination to punish M. Zulueta severely, and to put a stop to this hitherto flourishing branch of Cuban commerce.

A Villainous Transaction.—Yesterday about two o'clock, a well-dressed young man stepped up to the desk in the Burnet House, and registered his name as Francis Benjamin, and asked to be shown to his room. Producing a well-filled carpet-bag, Mr. Drake directed him to a room. In a few minutes he returned and handed Mr. D. a close sealed package, which he represented to be money, and requesting that it be deposited in the safe, which was done, and a receipt given, as is the custom. Mr. B. then went down to the jewelry establishment of T. Oskamp, on Main street, a few doors above Second street, and purchasing two gold watches, valued $100 each, and four guard chains worth $100 more, he directed that the goods be sent by a boy to his room, at the Burnet House, with a bill for the same. Mr. B. left, and the boy soon followed and presented the goods to Mr. B. in his room, who, endorsing the receipt, sent it down stairs for the package of money. When the boy returned the gentleman was gone. After waiting a few minutes the boy suspected that all was not right, and in the presence of the clerks of the house, the sealed package was broken open and found to contain slips of blank paper and two coppers. The valise was also opened, and found to be filled with new hay. The swindle was apparent. Up to a late hour last night the scoundrel had not been arrested. A description of him is in the hands of the police.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Died while Dressing for a Ball.—Miss Laura Shields, who resided in Liberty street, went up to her room on the evening of July 4th to dress for a ball, to be given at Union, on Broadway. When the gentleman came who was to accompany her, she had not come down stairs. Her mother called her, but she did not come, though nearly an hour passed in waiting for her. At length her mother went to the door and rapped, but no answer was returned, and she had locked the door. They then became alarmed and forced the door, when Laura was found lying upon the floor, nearly dressed for the ball and dead. She appeared to be in perfect health in the evening at tea. She was buried in the clothes they found her in on Monday.—Cin. Gaz. of Friday.

A City with Twelve Thousand Inhabitants Destroyed.—On the 1st of May, the City of Shiraz, in Persia, was destroyed, with 12,000 of its inhabitants, by the shock of an earthquake. This is the second city in Persia, and in former years had a population of 40,000 persons, but an earthquake in 1824 nearly destroyed it. It was formerly a place of great beauty, and is celebrated by the Persian poet Hafiz, who was a native of Shiraz, for its beauty and fertility. Since the earthquake of 1824, it has greatly declined in both, most of its public structures having been ruined by that calamity.

Explosion of a Cannon, and Miraculous Escape.—During the celebration on the 4th, at Williamsport, Pa., Robert Ralston was on the stand in front of the Court-house, and had been speaking about six minutes to an audience which had left the house on account of the extreme heat, when a cannon burst on the mound in the rear. A piece, weighing about thirty pounds, carried away part of the brick jamb of the Judges' window, the casing and the entire sash. It fell by the council table. Another piece went over the Methodist church. Fortunately no one was injured.

☞ At Cincinnati on the Fourth of July, a man named Ames mortally wounded his relative, a Mr. Richardson, in an affray—a young man named Richardson shot another named Wade, killing him—a riot occurred between a gang of rowdies and a German military company, in which several persons were severely injured—a man was fatally stabbed at a ball—a man named McNeely had a rib broken in a fight—six women and children injured by being thrown from a wagon—during an exhibition of fire works a stage gave way, precipitating several hundred people to the ground, and injuring many, and besides this there were four fires, a number of small fights, four serious accidents by fire works, several deaths by drowning, and a number of narrow escapes, &c. Truly, Cincinnati must be an attractive place on a holiday.

Horrible Parricide.—The Wabash (Indiana) Express, of the 6th instant, contains an account of a deplorable event, which took place a few days previous, near Wahoo, in Vigo county, Indiana. Thomas Mewhinney, aged 60, quarreled with his son John, aged 30, while both were drinking whiskey. During the fray, John stabbed his father to the heart. The old man told John to take a horse and leave the country, as he did not wish to have his son hang. The father died, and the son is an outcast.

☞ Sarah Johnson, a slave, has been convicted of arson at Louisville, Ky., and sentenced to receive two hundred lashes.

☞ We are authorized to announce, that JOHN C. ELLIS, Esq., of New Oxford, is a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the decision of the Whig County Convention.

☞ We are authorized to announce, that DAVID MELLINGER, Esq., of East Berlin, is a candidate for nomination as State Senator, subject to the decision of the Whig County Convention.

The Rail Road.

The Engineers, have been engaged since Wednesday last, in surveying the several contemplated routes for the Gettysburg Railroad. Nothing definite in the matter, has, of course, been ascertained as yet.

Bold Robbery!

On Monday night last, the Watch-maker's shop of Mr. WM. FRAZER, of this borough, was robbed of a large number of valuable watches. Circumstances rendering it very certain, that the perpetrator of the robbery was a young man, a foreigner, named LOUIS LAVINIA, who had been in the employ of Mr. Frazer for a short time, and who disappeared that evening, he was pursued, and arrested the next day near Sharpsburg, Md., and eighteen watches were found on his person, which had been abstracted from Mr. Frazer's shop, several of them valuable gold levers. He was committed to Hagerstown prison, where he awaits the requisition of the Governor of Pennsylvania. He will probably be brought here in a day or two.

Adams County Ahead!

We learn that our County Treasurer, Mr. Warren, has paid into the State Treasury the full quota of State Tax for Adams county in advance of all the other counties of the State, "as usual."

Beat this who can!

Mr. JOSEPH WIBLE, near this place, has left two stalks of oats with us, the heads of which are about 18 inches in length, and well filled.

☞ A meeting of the friends of a Prohibitory Liquor law was held in the Courthouse on Friday last—at which several addresses were delivered, and resolutions passed. The proceedings came to hand too late for publication this week.

Cholera in Emmitsburg.

This alarming disease, we learn, has broken out in Emmitsburg, and since Thursday last there have been five deaths—amongst whom we have heard the names of Mr. Duphorn and Mr. Moritz. There were two new cases yesterday. Great caution should be observed now, as regards cleanliness, and indulgence in unripe fruit or other improper food.

☞ R. W. Middleton, formerly of this place, has been retained as Clerk in the Second Auditor's office, at Washington, at a salary of $1,200.

The President.

President PIERCE, accompanied by several members of his Cabinet, left Washington on Monday, to be present at the opening of the Crystal Palace at New York on Thursday last. At Baltimore, Philadelphia, & indeed every point on the route, he was received in an enthusiastic manner, and that attention was paid to him by all parties, which is so becoming towards the head of this great Republic. His remarks upon every occasion when called for, were very appropriate, and well turned. At Philadelphia, a splendid banquet was given to him by the city authorities, which was highly honorable to them, as they are the political opponents of the President.

More Specie Going!

The steamer Africa sailed from N. York on Wednesday last, for Liverpool, with 88 passengers, and nearly Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars in Specie!

☞ Mr Wise, the aeronaut, thinks that with an expenditure of $25,000 he can construct a balloon with which he can cross the Atlantic in 48 hours.

☞ The sale of the Main Line of our State works, is agitated quite strongly by a number of Journals of both parties in various sections of the State, and it appears evident that at the next session of the Legislature a determined effort will be made to carry the proposition.

Fire at York, Pa.

On Saturday week, a fire broke out at York, which consumed two stables belonging to Mr. George Welsh, on East Market street, and four others belonging to the Hon. D. Durkee, John Herr, Charles Nes, and P. A & S. Small. A horse belonging to Mr. Welsh perished in the flames. The fire originated in consequence of two small children thoughtlessly kindling a fire with [illegible] matches in Mr. W's stable.

Opening of the Crystal Palace.

On Thursday last, the President of the U. States reached New York, and was welcomed at Castle Garden by the Mayor, to whom he responded in a neat and appropriate speech, which was received with great enthusiasm. The assemblage was immense, and the procession which was formed, was full an hour in passing the Battery.—Throughout the entire route the streets were jammed with masses of people. At 2 o'clock, the cortege reached the Crystal Palace, and the ceremonies of opening were commenced by prayer by Rev. Bishop Wainwright, followed by an anthem sung by the New York Harmonic, and accompanied by the National Guard Band.—The President was then welcomed by Theodore Sedgwick in a neat address, to which the President replied; and the ceremonies were closed with Handel's celebrated hallelujah chorus from the "Messiah," which, sung by an immense chorus, produced a magnificent musical effect. The grand city banquet took place on Friday night, and the President was to return to Washington on Saturday.

☞ President Pierce and Gen. Scott met in the street at New York on Thursday, and had an interesting interview—the crowd, in the meantime, cheering them alternately.

☞ The Cholera has re-appeared at Williamsport, Md. For a week previous to Thursday last, there had been an almost entire cessation; but on that day a number of new cases occurred, and there is a general alarm on the subject, several deaths having taken place. The Faculty of the College of St. James, near Hagerstown, have resolved to terminate the session two weeks earlier than usual, in consequence of the re-appearance of the epidemic at Williamsport.

☞ The new rolling mill nearly completed at Danville, by the Montour Iron Company, was destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon. Loss very heavy.

☞ While a party of twelve ladies were in bathing the other day, at Newport, the horse ran away with the wagon containing all their clothes! Imagine their feelings! They were obliged, in the words of the song, to "wait for the wagon!"

☞ Thomas W. Hellen has received the nomination of the Democratic party at Baltimore for Sheriff of that county. This nomination was the result of an election held by the party on Thursday—Mr. Hellen receiving the majority of the votes cast.

☞ A curious movement has been lately made in Baltimore by the German born citizens resident there, and it appears to excite considerable comment. It seems that these Baltimore Germans have held a convention, and "organized to advise the German voting community of Baltimore how to cast their votes at the next elections." They have, through their secretary, inquired of each of the candidates now before the people of Baltimore for office, whether he "is convinced of the justice and necessity of their organization," and if he "openly pledges himself to represent them in Congress, etc., according to the laws of equality and justice, without any preference to native born American citizens."

☞ Two men near Lacon, Illinois, stole what they supposed to be a bottle of liquor, last week, and drank in such haste that they did not discover until too late what it contained. It was nitric acid, procured for galvanizing. But a moment elapsed before they fell to the earth in excruciating agony, and died in awful torment.

Eighty Miles an Hour.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company own 43 locomotives, of which twelve are of a capacity equal to a speed of 80 miles an hour. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad have 141 locomotives, some of which are of equal speed. This immense velocity has been attained through the active competition of the Railroad Companies, who have spared no expense in rewarding construction for costly experiments.

Wheeling and her Railroads.—The city of Wheeling has become quite a focus at which concentrate railroad lines running in every direction. The Times of Monday says—

The contracts for the railroad from here to Marietta will be let on Wednesday next. The fifth road into Wheeling, which will then be all under contract.

☞ A little girl was stung to death by hornets, near Fort Ancient, Ohio, on a recent Sunday. Her brother stoned the nest, and she became the victim of the infuriated insects.

☞ Throughout the whole of Virginia, where internal improvements have thus far penetrated, there has been a great advance in the price of lands. In many counties, particularly in the West, the advance has been from 50 to 100 per cent.

Again in Slavery.—Mr. Orville Thomas, of Louisiana, while in Cincinnati recently, on his way to the North, liberated two of his servants, who were anxious to be free. A few days ago he returned to that city, and the two liberated slaves insisted on going back again into slavery, in Louisiana, in preference to being free in Cincinnati.—They are now on their way to their old home in Louisiana.

☞ One of our exchanges tells of a lazy genius, who being asked, as he lay sunning himself on the grass, what was the height of his ambition, replied—"To marry a rich widow [illegible]."

Late from Europe.

Large Advance in Breadstuffs.

The steamer Arabia arrived at N. York on Wednesday, bringing dates to the 2nd instant.

Breadstuffs had largely advanced, and were in active demand. Flour had advanced 1s. 6d. per bbl. during the week, and white corn 1s. per quarter. Canal flour 26 s.; Ohio 26s. 6d.

The last account in regard to the threatened war in the East of Europe, is that the news of the rejection by Turkey of the last ultimatum of Russia had reached St. Petersburg on the 24th; and that the Emperor has made a personal declaration to the English and French Ambassadors, expressed in the strongest language, stating that even the destruction of his fleets would not prevent his invading Turkey and obtaining reparation. The fourth division of the Russian army had been ordered to enter Moldavia. The Russian force on the line of the Black Sea amounts to 160,000 men.

A Murderer Escaped.

It is stated that Alexander Hutchinson, confined in the Blair County Jail, under sentence of death, escaped recently. He was sentenced about two years ago, for the murder of a negro, at the Holidaysburg basin, growing out of a dispute on a canal boat. The murder was cool and deliberate, the culprit expressing his conviction that it was of little account to shoot a "nigger." Gov. JOHNSTON refused to sign his death warrant, and Gov. BIGLER did the same.

The Swan Case.

The case of Mr. Swan, charged with the murder of Mr. Sprigg, of Cumberland, will be tried at Hagerstown at a special term of the Circuit Court, commencing on Tuesday next. Mr. Tyson, an eminent lawyer of Ellicott's Mills, has been selected as Judge, and has consented to preside. The trial will excite considerable interest, as heretofore some loop hole has always been discovered in the law to enable the prisoner to escape a fair trial. He has a very wealthy and influential relationship in Maryland, and no means will be left unemployed to effect his acquittal. Contrary to all law and precedent, he is now out on bail, while murderers of the common grade in point of wealth and position, are confined to their cells for trial.

☞ On Wednesday week, a steamer arrived at Milwaukee, from Chicago, with 734 passengers, 506 of which were German and Norwegian emigrants, on their way to settle in the interior of the State of Wisconsin.

☞ A fire occurred in Newark, N. J. on Tuesday night, which destroyed Ripley's Planing mill—loss $100,000; also, Bowen's Lumber-yard—loss $30,000; and an extensive Trunk-factory—loss $15,000. Only a small insurance.

☞ Mr Crampton, the British Minister, who left Washington several days ago for Halifax, sailed for that place from Boston on the 6th inst. His visit to Halifax has in view the amicable settlement of the fishery question.

Dining Service for the President's House.—A beautiful breakfast, dinner, dessert & tea service, of American porcelain, has just been finished in New York for the President's House. It includes handsomely engraved and richly cut table glass. The dining service numbers 450 pieces, and the glass 55 dozen. The whole cost is $1,500.

☞ Counterfeit dollars and half dollars, difficult to detect, are said to be in circulation in Wheeling; they ring as clearly as the genuine.

Counterfeits.—The Cincinnati Gazette says there was never a time when so many counterfeit notes were in circulation. It supposes some $100 per day are received in regular business, and thrown out at the various banking houses in that city, when offered for deposit.

☞ The number of prisoners on the 1st inst., in the Lancaster county Prison, was 55. Convicts, 18; for trial, 23; vagrants, 14.

The Cholera in Cuba.—The accounts from the interior of Cuba are quite disheartening. On one plantation they have lost 280 negroes from cholera. The Chinese have also suffered terribly. In some instances the whole number taken on the estate have been swept off.

Lightning.—There has been this season, an unusual number of persons, horses and cattle killed, and also a large amount of property destroyed by lightning. We are not a little astonished to see so many valuable dwellings, public edifices, well-stored barns, and manufactories of great value, without properly constructed conductors; particularly so, when the most approved scientific article of lightning rods can be had at very low prices, and put up at a trifling cost; and that, too, in such neat and tasteful shapes as to become ornaments as well as useful appendages.

Struck by Lightning.—Mr. James C. Skiles, merchant, of Salisbury, Lancaster county, was killed by lightning, on last Sunday week. Mr. Skiles was on his way to his father's, and meeting Mr. Murray and family driving in a carriage, he stopped to adjust the gears of the horse, when he and the horse were struck dead,—those in the carriage receiving no injury. Mr. Skiles was a very worthy young man;—he was married about a [illegible] ago.

Starvation in Spain.

It appears that the miserable condition to which Ireland was reduced a few years ago, is paralleled by what is now taking place in Spain. A writer in a French paper says:

"In vain the venerable Bishop of St. Jacques, in presence of more than six hundred unfortunates, resembling moving corpses, who daily besiege his gate, has sold his mules and his carriage. In vain has he reduced himself and his servants to the merest necessaries, in order that he might give the rest to those who perish of hunger. All that he or the other bishops and clergy, all that the government can do, according to the Esperanza, is but a drop of water to extinguish the conflagration. When we speak of the Government, however, we must remember that the last contribution made by it of 3,000,000 of reals had not been distributed. In the mountains, the starving die by dozens, and in many places fevers of the most dangerous character are joined to the famine. Hundreds of sick expire for want of nourishment and medicine. The streets of our cities are encumbered with old men, women and children, with the visages of corpses, covered with miserable rags, and even worse, troubling themselves no longer except to die in quiet, and imploring with loud cries the succors of the public charity. At the gates of the Arch-episcopal Palace more than a thousand people wait for daily bread; and I hear that one day lately 4,500 poor assembled to receive the alms distributed in the city by one gentleman.

California.

The advices from California as received by the Illinois, on Sunday, are two weeks later. The Illinois brought nearly $2,000,000 in gold. Business at San Francisco was more animated. No less than three duels have been fought at or near San Francisco, since the previous advices. In one case, the parties were Senator Guinn and Representative McCorkle. Three shots were fired without any damage, when the matter was adjusted. In the second case, the parties were Edward Toby, Clerk to the Board of Assistant Aldermen of San Francisco, and Dr. Alfred Crane, late of Alexandria, La. At the second fire, Dr. Crane was shot through the body, and died on Sunday.—In the third, the parties were Thomas Hoyes, Assistant Alderman, and John Nugent, the editor of the Herald. They fought with pistols at a distance of twenty paces, and at the second shot, Nugent was wounded. When the steamer left, Nugent's wound was considered critical. Still another was talked of between Mr. Rush, of the Express, and Mr. Stibger, of the Herald.

The advices from Hong Kong are to the 27th of April, and from Shanghai to the 15th. The capture of Nankin was confirmed—also, the subsequent defeat of the rebels. At Nankin, the chiefs of the insurgents was crowned Emperor. A force of 30,000 men had been sent from Pekin, and the Imperialists were determined to make a last effort.

The August Elections.

The approaching August elections seem to attract little attention during the present calm in national politics—a calm and quiet most refreshing after the hurricane of last fall. As journalists, however, we must remind our readers that elections will take place next month in the States of Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas, Alabama, Texas, Tennessee and North Carolina. In the two latter States the elections will be held on Thursday the 4th of August, and in the others on Monday the 1st of Au't. In Kentucky and Arkansas members of Congress and the State Legislature are to be chosen; in Missouri and N. Carolina members of Congress, and in each of the States of Alabama, Texas and Tennessee, a Governor, Legislature and members of Congress are to be elected.—Party lines, except in Texas, are pretty strictly drawn, and in Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee, the canvass is exceedingly animated. In the latter State Messrs. Henry and Johnston, the Whig and Democratic candidates for Governor, have taken the stump and thoroughly canvassed every county. Linn Boyd, late speaker of the House of Representatives, is a candidate for re-election from the first district of Kentucky, but meets with bitter opposition from a partisan of his own party. In Missouri the Democracy are divided into Benton and anti-Benton factions, who are more bitter against each other than against the Whigs. Only two members of Congress are to be chosen, however, they being the additional members to which the State is entitled under the late apportionment act. The other five were elected last year before the above mentioned act was passed, and the Legislature subsequently divided the State into seven districts. The election this year is held in the St. Louis and Palmyra districts, the first of which is Democratic and the latter Whig.

Heroic Act of a Jail Keeper.

We lately mentioned that, on the 4th inst., the prisoners confined in the Cincinnati jail attempted to make their escape.—A Cincinnati paper gives the following account of the scene:

On the evening preceding the fourth of July an attempt was made by the chain gang to escape from durance vile, by cutting a hole through the ceiling of their cell, climbing from thence to the garret, and then cutting another hole through the outer wall, near the roof. This they had nearly effected before they were overheard. However, their noise awoke Mr. Milinge, one of the turnkeys, who, seizing a club, immediately hastened to the roof, where he encountered one or two who had already made their way through the aperture made, preparing to descend outside the wall. A blow from the club in the hands of Mr. M. laid one of them low, while the other was bro't to terms by a well-directed shot in the arm. Following up his advantage, he sprang to the edge of the roof, immediately above the aperture, assuring the affrighted birds that the first one who protruded his head would most assuredly lose what little brains he had left. By this time assistance arrived, and the whipped scoundrels, one of whom is Billy Adams, the notorious thief, were re-escorted to safe quarters.

Marriages.—There were 536 marriages, 613 births and 318 deaths registered in the Register's office, Lancaster, Pa., from July 1st 1852, to July 1st, 1853.

A Scene of Poverty, Drunkenness, and Starvation.

Yesterday we were invited by a kind-hearted philanthropist, to visit Thatcher court. We found there a small wooden building, one story under ground, and one story and an attic above ground. The basement story is divided into three apartments, the first story into four, and the attic into the same number. In each of the rooms above ground we found a family, all in a miserable condition. We visited a family who occupied one of the upper rooms.—Here we found a man, his wife, and two children lodged. This little room, which is just twice the size of a common bedstead, we found in the same filthy state. The man and woman were both drunk, and have been so most of the time for the last three weeks.

The bed which accommodated the four, was a bundle of rags in a most shocking condition. No furniture, excepting the bed, of any kind was to be seen, but we learned that the family had a right to cook in one of the basements—when they had anything to cook—where they had a chair and part of a table. An empty bottle, which had contained spirits, was standing near the miserable father of this miserable family. The children had no food during the day, and they said they were starving. A little girl four years old, and a little boy of two years, were the unfortunate children of this couple. Our companion kindly remonstrated with the burly, hearty-looking drunkard and his miserable looking wife, but it did no good. They appeared lost to shame, and the willing victims to their appetites. The oldest of the children was then taken to a shop near by, and some food purchased for her and her little brother. She took the food home, and as soon as she entered the house, her father robbed his starving children of the food given to them, and ate it himself.—Bost. Herald.

Queer Case.

On Sunday evening last, some persons walking on the railroad, about half a mile north of the depot, in Northampton, heard groans from some one in the grass, a short distance from the track. Upon going to the spot, they discovered an Irish girl apparently about 20 years of age. She was taken up and conveyed to a house, a doctor procured, and in about an hour afterwards she was delivered of a living male child, which died on the Monday morning following.—The girl stated that she came from Springfield, in the afternoon train on Saturday, and was to return in the evening, but missed the train and so wandered about. Having no acquaintances, and becoming sick and tired, she lay down in the grass, where she remained from Saturday to Sunday night, (exposed on Sunday afternoon to a shower of rain,) where she was discovered as above stated.—Springfield Republican.

A Knowing Horse.—The New Haven Republican is responsible for the following:—

Two carriages, one double and the other single, were near being destroyed, with their passengers, yesterday afternoon, on the New York Railroad. The drivers did not see the passenger train until it was close upon them. The double carriage, however, got over the track. The single horse had his front feet almost upon the rail. He reared upon his hind legs and stood thus like a statue till the train passed by! It came so near him that it struck the projecting shafts and broke them, but did no other injury. We understood our informant, a respectable gentleman, to say that he witnessed all this.

Distressing Accident.—At Albany, on the 4th, Mr. John Pemberton placed in front of his house about four pounds of damaged powder, in the shape of a mound, and while in the act of placing a piece of lighted punk in the centre of it, his daughter being near him and looking over it, a spark of fire fell upon it, when the powder exploded, enveloping her in flames. Her clothing was nearly burnt off her person, and she was taken into the house blind and severely burned. Her father was badly burned about his face and hands, but is not considered dangerous. Miss Pemberton is about 24 years of age, and her recovery is very doubtful.

Daring Outrage and Robbery.—On the night of the 25th ult., a house nearly two miles from Fetterman, Va., occupied by 4 sisters of the name of Luzadde, was broken open by a gang of robbers, armed with butcher knives and clubs. One of the sisters was seized and severely choked, and the other three threatened with death if they gave the alarm. They then compelled them to give them all the money (some ten dollars,) they had in the house, when they left the premises. The sisters, who have lived alone for many years and are quite old, hid themselves in the woods until morning, when they proceeded to the house of a neighbor and related the facts. Subsequently two men, named Fisk and Boyd, were arrested on suspicion.

A Train Smashed—Many Persons Injured.—As the passenger train of the Southern Michigan Railroad was within four miles of Toledo on the morning of the 4th, an axletree on the baggage car snapped in two. The collision threw the first passenger car forty feet from the track with great violence, smashing it to pieces, and reducing it to an unsightly pile of broken wood, iron and glass. How a single person escaped wound or death is astonishing.—One man was mortally wounded. A huge splinter struck him below the breast, tearing out his entrails in a horrible manner. Another man had his leg broken, a third a foot smashed, a fourth a severe contusion on the head, which will probably reduce him to a condition of permanent idiocy.—Some others were injured and bruised.—All were shocked and hurt more or less.

The second passenger car was thrown across the track and broken in the middle, and came near throwing its inmates on the track. A boy had his arm broken. A lady had her head badly cut. A man received a severe wound in the side from broken glass. A gentleman who was in the second car says the shock of the collision was tremendous, suddenly lifting the people from their seats, and throwing them headlong eight or ten feet, over the backs of their neighbors' seats.—Cleveland Forest City.

Mexico and the United States.

The "Universal," published in the city of Mexico, alludes to the rumors which have been circulated in that country and this, that the large increase of the Mexican army, provided for by a recent decree of Santa Anna, contemplates a declaration of war against the United States. These rumors it pronounces to be entirely groundless. "In short," it says, at the close of its article, "Mexico has no idea of declaring war against the U. States, because aware of her position, and especially because she respects the eternal laws of justice; but she is endeavoring to place her army on a respectable footing, with a view to repel more promptly any invasion which may be brought against herself by another nation, under a notion of physical superiority, and the known tendencies to illimitable expansion, of which certain people make so unscrupulous a boast.—Journal of Commerce.

Smoked Him Out.—Dickens, in his "Household Words," tells us of an ingenious device resorted to by the masters of Australian emigrant ships to ferret out the covies attempting to steal a passage by secreting themselves in dark places in the vessel's hold. The honest passengers are called on deck, the hatches are bolted down, and quantities of asphaltum burned between decks, till, overcome by the intolerable pungency of the smoke, the loafers come forth from under the timbers and boxes, and either "fork over," or work their passage with honest fellows, before the mast.

☞The St. Louis correspondent of the Savannah Georgian furnishes the item below, illustrative of the terrible fascination of gambling. He says that a singular mode of betting is resorted to on Sundays on the Western waters, on which day there is no card playing allowed. The gamblers sit around a table, each having before him a lump of sugar; a stake is put up by the players, and he upon whose lump a fly lights first wins the "pile." They also make side bets among themselves upon this important event. The excitement often waxes high, as the fly hovers over and around the sweet morsels, undecided upon which to feast.

The English Mission.—The declination by Mr. Buchanan of the post of Minister to England continues to be strongly asserted by the Washington correspondents, and in the absence of any denial the report is generally gaining credence. The usually well posted correspondent of the New York Courier, in a despatch dated Sunday evening says that, no declination had yet been received from Mr. Buchanan, but the impression was universal that he had thrown up his commission on account of Cabinet difficulties, arising out of the Fishery negotiations.

Bug in the Ohio Forests.—In several of the northern counties of Ohio, the foliage of the trees has been, in certain districts, so generally devoured that most of the limbs are entirely stripped of their leaves, by a [illegible] which flies at dusk and settles upon [illegible]. It is about an inch long, and [illegible] of an inch in width across its back.

Damaged Corn.—Thousands of bushels of heated corn have been shipped from Chicago within a few weeks. The Buffalo market is overrun with damaged and heated corn, and it is being sent to New York as fast as transportation can be had. There it is used by distillers, who buy it at almost their own price. The practice of manufacturing whiskey from damaged corn, it is said, is getting to be quite common throughout the country.

Methodist Tabernacle in New Orleans.—A correspondent of the Christian Advocate, writing from the South, mentions a plan entertained by Harry Hill, a well known wealthy cotton merchant, and a liberal hearted Methodist, for building a Methodist Tabernacle in that city, in an eligible position, at a cost of $150,000. It is to be capable of seating 3,000 persons.

The Irish Exodus.—The emigration mania in Ireland is said to have somewhat abated in parts of the kingdom, the approach of harvest being probably the main cause, but the western counties still contribute their full contingent to the vast Irish population now settling down beyond the two great oceans.

The Darkness Gone.—M. A. Townsend, writing from New Brighton, Pa., under date of June 27, says: "A little boy, blind from birth, aged about four years, died in this village a few days ago with scarletina. About an hour before the little sufferer departed, he exclaimed: 'Pa, I see now. Darkness is all gone. Day is come!' His father inferred from the incident that he was better, and would probably recover. But he died an hour afterwards.

Health of Gen. Scott.—It will be remembered that Gen. Scott met with a severe accident, some weeks since, while walking in Ninth street, in New York. We learn from the Tribune that he is slowly recovering the use of his arm, but it is very doubtful if he will ever have the full use of it restored to him. He is now staying at West Point for the benefit of his health.

Birth Place of Henry Clay for Sale.—The farm known as "Clay's Springs," in Hanover county, Va., and upon which the orator and statesman, Henry Clay, was born, is offered for sale by its present owner, Mr. William B. Dabney.

A Marble Palace.—Mr. J. R. Monnot, of the New York Hotel, who now owns the entire square occupied by the hippodrome in that city, it is stated, is contracting for white marble sufficient to build a front elevation seven stories high, and 800 feet in length.

Heavy Travel.—On the 4th of July, it is calculated that upwards of ten thousand persons passed over the Pennsylvania Railroad, between Pittsburg and Blairsville.

Young America.—In the geography of Young America, the following boundaries of the United States are now glibly given: East by sunrise, West by sunset, North by the Arctic Expedition, and South as far as we darned please!

"Times are Changed."—On the 15th day of October, 1797, Sir Benjamin Hammitt was fined one thousand pounds sterling, for refusing the office of Lord Mayor of London.

Shocking Suicide.

Last Saturday morning, between one and two o'clock, the report of a pistol was heard in Water street, between Chestnut and Market, Philadelphia. Shortly after, one of the city watch found a young German sitting on the pavement leaning against the step of a house, with a shocking wound in his head, evidently caused by a pistol shot. His brains were completely blown out. In one hand he held a revolver tightly grasped. His pockets contained nothing except a powder flask and the following note, which serves to solve the mystery:

"The cause of my death is attributed to nobody. I die willingly, as I am tired of life. Life has been burthensome to me since I was born. What is man made for? To toil, to suffer; and as I am not going to live much longer, I say good-bye to the world, with the pleasant expectation of coming into another and better one. ISAAC GOODMAN,

"Native of Gunsersblue, Hesse Darmstadt, Germany."

The body of the deceased was carried to the North Eastern Station House, where an inquest was held. The unfortunate man appeared to be about 20 or 22 years of age. He was neatly and cleanly clad.

Where is the West?

On Friday last, at 4½, P. M., Samuel Lawrence, Esq., was in Boston, having left Lasalle, Illinois, at three o'clock, Wednesday, P. M., preceding. He came by way of Chicago, looked in upon Cleveland, called at Buffalo, was sped over the plain by the "lightning express" train to Albany, and whisked over the Western and Worcester Railroads to Boston! Once, and within the memory of the middle-aged man of this day, Buffalo was considered quite "out west."—Chicago, but yesterday, was a "far-off-land." Now, a merchant shakes hands and bids good-bye to his customers 180 miles west of that, and in two days and one hour and a half—greets his friends in Boston! It is in fact only eleven hundred and fifty miles!—Boston Journal.

Frost.

On Sabbath morning the 26th June, says the Somerset Visitor, a sharp frost hung upon our neighborhood, and on its departure, left rather a withering mark upon the vegetable kingdom. Potatoes, and many of the more tender of the garden plants, had their tops changed from their native green to a more handsome hue.

On the same morning there was a heavy frost in Indiana county, freezing the corn.

Terrific Storm and Loss of Life.

NEW YORK, July 10.—A tremendous hurricane, accompanied by thunder, lightning, and torrents of rain, passed over this city and vicinity yesterday evening. A building at Tarrytown, occupied by several families, and containing fifty persons, was blown down, and only six of the inmates are known to have escaped. Seven dead bodies had been taken out last evening.

A large brick store and dwelling house in course of erection at Brooklyn, on the corner of Hicks and Montague streets, was entirely demolished, and the passers by buried in the ruins.

Persia.

Advices from Ezeromu to June 3d bring intelligence of an extraordinary earthquake which had occurred during the night, by which 12,000 persons were killed. The plague broke out next day from their unburied corpses.

Inundations and the cholera had fearfully ravaged Teheran, and the locusts had done immense damage at Ispahan.

The City of Shiraz was also totally destroyed by an earthquake on the night of May 1st.

☞A novel dental operation was performed at Allentown, Pa., by two resident physicians, one day last week. It was the extraction of three teeth from the mouth of a large rattlesnake. Before commencing the extraction, chloroform was administered until Mr. Snake was wrapped in gentle slumber, when the teeth were drawn without difficulty.

☞The New York "Dutchman," speaking of the multitudes who seek office under every new administration, says: "Men will doubt their fitness to open a broker's shop, peddle clams, or act as switch-tender to a railroad; but who ever saw an individual who distrusted his ability to take charge of a custom house, go to Congress, or fill up a foreign embassy?"

☞An ice-cream saloon has just been opened in New York, containing mirrors, it is said, which alone cost $10,000. The ornamental work of the ceiling alone cost $10,000. Whether the quality of the ice-cream is to be improved by all this lavish expenditure, is not stated.

Fat Cattle.—The Journal of Commerce states that eleven head of cattle and sheep on exhibition near the Crystal Palace, had been sold to T. M. Bishop, of Vernon, for seventeen hundred dollars, who intends keeping them on exhibition during the Fair.

Liquor and Crime.—New York and Liverpool rank in the same class as cities.—The criminal convictions in New York during 1852, reached 3,500; in Liverpool they reached only 610. In 1851, Liverpool licensed 2,324 places to sell liquor; New York licensed 5,75[illegible], and there were 851 unlicensed rum holes. In Liverpool the rum shops were closed on Sunday; in New York they remained open. Do not these rum statistics throw some light on the disparity in crime between Liverpool and New York?

Horrible Death by Camphine.—About 9 o'clock on Thursday evening of last week, William H. Harrison was in the act of filling a camphine lamp, which was then burning near his bed, when the lamp exploded and set his clothes on fire, and burned them entirely off his body, and so badly burned him that he died from the effects of it the next morning. His wife, who was near by, was sadly burned, and is very low at present, though it is expected that she will recover.—Chittenango (N. Y.) Gaz.

Young Men, Never Despair.

Fifty-three years ago, on the 4th of July, 1800, Daniel Webster, then in his senior year at college, delivered an oration at Hanover, N. H., which is still preserved, and has been republished within the past year. Mr. Matton, of Summerville, Ohio, who was in college with Mr. Webster, gives the following anecdote, described in the Congregational Journal:

"I was in his room, said Mr. M., when a deputation called upon Mr. W., to ask him to accept the invitation; but there seemed to be an insurmountable obstacle in the way. He had no clothes suitable to the dignity of the occasion. Here was a dilemma, but this was removed by a proposition made by one of the deputation present, a merchant of the village. "You deliver the oration, Mr. Webster," said he, "and I will trust you for a suit of clothes from the best cloth I have in my store. Afterward, we will have the oration printed, and I will depend on the proceeds of the sales for my pay." Mr. W. turned to me—"Jack," he said, "what shall I do?" "Prepare the oration," I said. The oration was prepared, and delivered; and so much were the citizens gratified, that a copy was urgently requested for publication. From the sales, the debt due the liberal merchant was paid, and a considerable surplus left for Mr. W.'s own use.

Terrible Stroke of Lightning.—We regret to learn that a brother of Warren Cooley, of this city, was instantly killed by lightning, on Tuesday morning last, at Peoria, Wyoming county. The deceased, Francis Cooley, was standing in his store, filling a camphine can, when the lightning entered at the back of the building, struck him near the head and passed out through his heel, entirely stripping him of his clothes, and causing instant death. Mrs. Cooley and her sister were sitting at the time about a table, in a room over the store; and the top of the table was separated from its legs in an instant. Two persons were in the store at the time; one, a young man, standing near the door, was tossed into the street, a distance of nearly twenty feet; the other, a lady, was prostrated and rendered senseless; but neither were seriously injured. The deceased was about 30 years of age, and married, but without children.—Utica Herald.

Trying Situation for a Mother.—A few days since, a daughter of Mr Isaiah Sawtelle, of Belgrade, Me., about two years old, fell into a well, eighteen feet deep.—The mother was informed of the accident, but when she arrived, the little one had sunk in four feet of water. She ran to a neighbor's, twenty rods or more, for assistance, but found none. Returning, she lowered the well pole to the bottom, and brought the child to the surface, the little thing clinging to the pole with its hands.—The mother raised it a few feet, when its hold relaxed, and it again sank. Again she lowered the pole, which coming in contact with its little hands, it was taken with a death grasp, and the child thus drawn up twenty feet, to its mother's arms. Notwithstanding it was apparently dead at the time, by proper exertions it was restored to life.

Marrying and Remarrying.—In 1849 Mr. James Austin was married to a young lady of this city. Subsequently he went to Europe on business, where he was detained longer than his wife thought necessary.—From the insidious misrepresentations of interested persons, she was induced to charge her husband with infidelity. A suit for divorce was instituted, and she and her infant child were allowed $5,000 alimony, the interest to be paid as it accrued, and the principal when she attained the age of 21. Yesterday she came into court asking that she be paid the $5,000, as she was now of age, which was granted, and here the court of law dropped the case. But the misjudged husband, who since returned from Europe, and satisfied his former wife of his innocence, took the case in hand and was again married, and made a happy husband and father.—N. Y. Mirror.

Floating Liquor Shop.—A sloop has been fitted up with a house upon her deck, and anchored in the harbor about three miles from Boston, between Apple and Deer Islands, for the purpose of supplying boats, parties and vessels with liquors of all kinds. This floating store is reported to have done a large business. As the 'Maine Law' only applies to the main land, the proprietors do not violate anything but the spirit of the existing laws by this novel arrangement.

Disgraceful Scene at a Funeral.—A number of persons returning from a funeral in Cincinnati, on Wednesday week, stopped their carriages at a coffee house and called for liquor. A dispute arose, and a general fight ensued. In the melee the carriages were broken, and the furniture of the coffee house destroyed, and several of the fighters severely cut.

☞A child of Wm. C. Bay, of Brookford, Ohio, about one year old, last week, while sleeping in bed with his parents, crawled to the back part of the bed, and his body fell between the bed rail and the wall, so as to hang by his head, where he was found dead the next morning.

☞The Lancaster Inland Daily of Tuesday says—"A woman beastly drunk, was one of the passengers by the up train yesterday evening from Philadelphia. She was unable to sit and fell to the floor several times. The sight was painful and humiliating. A man's drunkenness shocks the sensibilities of every gentleman of education or refinement, but the sight of a woman's brutalization awakens feelings of infinitely keener and more poignant sorrow."

Franklin and Marshall College Building.

The Trustees of this Institution had a meeting in Lancaster, Pa., a few days ago, to receive the designs for the College building. Four plans were submitted, and that of Messrs. Dixon, Balbircle & Dixon, of Baltimore, was adopted. The architects are of the opinion that a house after their plan can be erected at a cost of $20,000.

☞A letter from New York says that the city is flooded with pickpockets, thieves, thimble-riggers, watch-stuffers, pocket-book-droppers, &c. &c., and advises persons visiting the city to keep a sharp look-out, or they will be made to suffer.

"I DIGEST!" Such is the true meaning of the word "Pepsin," or of the two Greek words from which it is derived. This is the significant and appropriate title of the True Digestive Fluids or Gastric Juice, prepared by Dr. J. S. Houghton of Philadelphia, from the fourth Stomach of the Ox, for the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It is Nature's own remedy for an unhealthy Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It renders Good Eating perfectly consistent with Health. See the figure of the Ox, in another page of this paper.

IMPORTANT TO CAPITALISTS.

"MINERAL MILLS"

AT PUBLIC SALE.

8 per cent. on the Capital invested, guarantied to the purchaser.

THE undersigned, Assignees of ROBERT COBEAN, will sell at Public Sale, on Thursday the first day of September next, on the premises, the valuable property long known as "COBEAN'S MILLS," situate on Marsh Creek, in Cumberland township, Adams county, Pa., 3 miles west of Gettysburg, near the road leading from Gettysburg to Hagerstown, Md., containing 71 Acres, more or less, of valuable land.

The improvements consist of 2 two-story Log DWELLING-HOUSES, one of which is weather-boarded, and the other has a Stone Back-building attached, with stabling to each; Carriage-house, Corn-crib, Dry-house, and other out buildings. There is a well of good water at one of the Houses, with a pump in it, and an excellent garden to each. There is a thriving of about 100 Apple trees, nearly all bearing, besides a large number of Peach, Pear, Plum and Apricot trees.

The land is principally bottom, of good quality, and in a good state of cultivation, with a full proportion of Timber, and under fencing, a large portion of which is post and rail, and put up during the last three or four years.

There is also a large BLACKSMITH SHOP, with shoeing and coal sheds attached.

There is also on this property a valuable

MINERAL SPRING,

the water of which has been analyzed and found to contain rare and valuable qualities.

THE MILL

is new, having been put into operation on the 1st day of January, 1851. It is 3 stories high; the basement story stone, of superior material and workmanship; the other two stories frame, weatherboarded and painted in the best manner, with spouting, Lightning conductor, &c. There are two overshot water wheels, 4 run of Stones, 2 French Burrs and 2 Country Stones, (warranted good,) either pair of which will drive all the machinery. There is a Corn and Plaster Breaker, Smut machine, Hopper-boy, Grain and Flour Elevators; also Grain Conveyors to fill the Granaries on two floors; Friction Hoisting Gears at both ends of the Mill, where loading and unloading can be done with convenience at the same time, having an open road around the building. The Gearing is spur and bevel; principally cast iron, with wooden cogs. The building and machinery are constructed with the very best material that could be purchased, and for durability, convenience and neatness are unsurpassed by any in the county. The Mill is insured in a safe Insurance Company.

THE SAW-MILL

is well constructed, in good repair, and does a good business annually. The old Mill House, which is still standing, might be used to advantage for machinery of any kind.

This property has many and peculiar advantages connected with it. It is located in a healthy, well cultivated and productive neighborhood, convenient to Churches of all Religious Denominations, Schools and Factories. The roads leading to it are good, affording good facilities for the transportation of grain. The stream by which the Mill is propelled is large, and the water power at all times sufficient to do an extensive and lucrative business. The Railroad about to be constructed from Gettysburg to Hanover will be of incalculable advantage as it will afford facilities for transporting Flour to the Philadelphia and Baltimore markets with comparatively trifling expense.

As a business place this property is not surpassed by any in the County, and would be a desirable location for a COUNTRY STORE.

A Tract of Wood-Land, adjoining the above property, consisting of about

is now in the market, and can be bought on accommodating terms; the land is good, and covered with Timber of superior quality, &c., and situated only one-fourth of a mile from the Saw Mill.

As property of this description is seldom in the market, Capitalists would do well to call and see it. AS IT WILL POSITIVELY BE SOLD. The terms will be made accommodating, and an indisputable title will be given to the purchaser. Possession will be given on the 1st of April, 1854; or if desired, on the 1st of October next.

Any person wishing to view the property will call upon ROBERT COBEAN, residing thereon, and any desired information respecting the same may be obtained by applying personally or by letter to him or either of the Assignees.

Sale will commence at 1 o'clock on said day, when attendance will be given and terms made known by

SAMUEL COBEAN, }
JAS. CUNNINGHAM, } Assignees.

FARM,

on which he resides, situate in Germany township, Adams county, Pa., one mile west of Littlestown, adjoining lands of Benjamin Landis, heirs of Jacob Rider, deceased, and others, containing 183 Acres.

This Farm has within the last few years been heavily limed, and is in a good state of cultivation. The improvements consist of a commodious HOUSE, part log (weather-boarded) and part stone, a large new Switzer Barn, &c. The Balt. and Chambersburg Turnpike, and a never-failing stream of water pass through the farm—good springs in almost every field—a never-failing well of water at the door, with pump and piping to supply barn-yard—a good ORCHARD—abundance of Meadow ground, and upwards of 50 ACRES OF HEAVY TIMBER-LAND.

It is unnecessary to say more, as the Farm will show for itself. It will be shown to any persons wishing to see it, by the undersigned, living thereon. HENRY SPALDING.

GROCERIES & QUEENSWARE [illegible] cheap at FAHNESTOCK'S.

Russia and Turkey.

PARIS, Monday, 6, P. M.—A private letter from Jassy, (Moldavia) of the 17th ult., states that the entire population were in the greatest state of uncertainty as to their future position. On the 15th, an extraordinary courier from St. Petersburg passed on his way to Bucharest and Constantinople. After his departure, the Russian Consul, M. Guirebe, proceeded immediately to notify to Prince Ghika that the Cabinet of St. Petersburgh had again sent its ultimatum to Constantinople, with orders that if the Sublime Porte did not accept it at the end of eight days, the Russian Generals who were on the frontier would pass it, and immediately commence hostilities against Turkey; that, in consequence, His Highness, the Hospodar, must without any loss of time, adopt the necessary measures for provisioning the army, and for the transport of the baggage of the Russian troops; and that for this purpose the Consul General of Bucharest, M. Hultzinsky, would repair to Jassy in three or four days to come to an understanding with the Prince. It was, on the other hand, known that since the 14th inst., a division of the army, amounting to 40,000 men, had arrived at Skouliani, which is about two leagues from Jassy, on the Russian side.—The number of troops may, perhaps, be exaggerated, but the letter states it as positive that the troops were encamped along the whole line of the Pruth.

The warlike preparations in Turkey are carried on with considerable energy. The news of the 18th, from Kalisch, is not without importance. The chief engineer of the active army, Lieutenant General Dahn, has arrived at Warsaw from St. Petersburgh. Courier horses stand saddled and bridled by night and day at all the post stations between St. Petersburg and Warsaw. The Lloyd has also a letter of the 14th from Brady. The writer remarks that Odessa letters do not touch on politics for fear of displeasing the Government. There is a complete stagnation in trade at Odessa as well as in the Danubian Principalities, and the foreign merchants in Jassy and Galetz are most anxious to get in their outstanding capital.

The Way Railroads are Built in Georgia.—The way railroads are made in Georgia, to us, has an air of novelty. The contract for the railroad from Brunswick to Thomasville, (136 miles long,) and the road from the latter place to Albany, Geo., 58 miles more, including iron, equipments and all, is only $13,000 per mile. Collins & Alexander, whose trade is making railroads in the South, are the contractors. They contract for these large jobs by the wholesale, and retail them out to the planters and others on the line. These planters subscribe for so much stock; give their notes, payable when the road is made, and then generally contract, under Collins & Alexander, on the section nearest their plantation, to furnish cross ties, and to do what grading is to be done; and this work being thus done by their negroes, pays their notes when due, with little or no outlay in money. The same firm have contracted to build a road, 28 miles long, from Thomasville to Tallahassee, Fla., where there is already a road to St. Marks, on the waters of the Gulf of Mexico. These roads are to be completed by July 1st, 1855.

The Madeira Protestants.—A letter from Madeira appears in the Presbyterian, from Rev. James D. Burns, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in that Island, giving an account of the persecutions of the Christian Portuguese. Mr. Burns says:

"The warm and affectionate reception which the first refugees met with from the American Churches, made a deep impression on their brethren who were left behind. Their native land, fair and fruitful as it is, has been to them, since they were called to the glorious liberty of the gospel, a house of bondage. They have learned to worship the God of their fathers in a way which their kindred and countrymen call heresy, and they have long been wistfully looking across the ocean to your hospitable shores, knowing that if they could but touch them, they would be both spiritually and politically free. Nothing remains but to assist as many of them as we can possibly provide for, to hasten their escape from the windy storm and tempest which is gathering. In another fortnight, we hope that about sixty will leave in a vessel for New York, and among them the flower & strength of the remaining Protestantism of Madeira."

An Extraordinary Discovery.—The attention of men of science, in Paris, has been drawn to an extraordinary discovery made in a neighboring department. A grave-digger, in throwing up some earth, came upon a body in a state of perfect preservation. On examination it proved to be that of an individual buried thirty-seven years ago. He had died from the effects of the bite of a mad dog. The shroud and the coffin had fallen to dust, but the body remained intact. This is the third exhumation made within twenty years, of bodies of the victims of hydrophobia, under similar circumstances; and it would really seem that they are beyond the reach of decomposition. The registry of deaths was consulted, and no mention of the embalment of the body was found.

Distressing Suicide of a Physician.—Dr. F. A. Beselin, a respectable German physician of Chicago, was recently prosecuted on a charge of taking improper liberties with a female patient. It was alleged that at the preliminary examination the female was shown to be of questionable reputation, and the charge to be unfounded. The Dr., however, was held to bail to answer at court, and since then, it is said, he has suffered greatly from mortification, and on the 5th inst., borrowed a pistol from another physician, and shot himself dead. He was a man of fine education, and his parents, who reside in Germany, are of the highest respectability.

Singular Death.—The Madison (Ind.) Banner says that, a German named J. W. Beyer was severely injured on the Fourth, by the explosion of a bundle of fire-works which he was carrying. They were ignited by a lighted fire cracker, thrown heedlessly upon them by some boys. He died the next day.

A Heavy Fine.—Alfred Bignold was fined $1,860, at Louisville, Ky., on the 6th instant, for renting his house to a female of bad reputation to be used for improper purposes.

News of the Slave Trade.

The N. Y. Times says that Capt. Vinus, Spanish captain of the slaver Lady Suffolk, is now in New York, the guest of a Spanish merchant, who has fitted out many vessels for various Cuban ports, at which, however, their arrival has not generally been very promptly announced. The Times adds:

The Captain makes no secret of his connection with the slaver Lady Suffolk, but is quite communicative as to the incidents, results and embarrassments of his voyage. He states that the precise number of negroes which he shipped on the coast of Africa was 1,189, and that he landed 1,059, having thus lost 130 on the passage. He attributes this large mortality to the fact that he experienced protracted and frequent calms on the way, and thus necessarily made a long passage. He states that he was alongside the coast of Cuba for several days, awaiting favorable opportunities to land his cargo, and that he was robbed of nearly 100 while they were on their way from the coast to the several plantations among which they were distributed. It will be remembered that M. Zulueta received the largest portion of the slaves, nearly six hundred being sent to his plantation, while four hundred were assigned to M. Abreu, who lives at Havana, but who has not yet been arrested by the Captain General. Captain Vinus thinks that Gen. Canedo is in earnest in his determination to punish M. Zulueta severely, and to put a stop to this hitherto flourishing branch of Cuban commerce.

A Villainous Transaction.—Yesterday about two o'clock, a well-dressed young man stepped up to the desk in the Burnet House, and registered his name as Francis Benjamin, and asked to be shown to his room. Producing a well-filled carpet-bag, Mr. Drake directed him to a room. In a few minutes he returned and handed Mr. D. a close sealed package, which he represented to be money, and requesting that it be deposited in the safe, which was done, and a receipt given, as is the custom. Mr. B. then went down to the jewelry establishment of T. Oskamp, on Main street, a few doors above Second street, and purchasing two gold watches, valued $100 each, and four guard chains worth $100 more, he directed that the goods be sent by a boy to his room, at the Burnet House, with a bill for the same. Mr. B. left, and the boy soon followed and presented the goods to Mr. B. in his room, who, endorsing the receipt, sent it down stairs for the package of money. When the boy returned the gentleman was gone. After waiting a few minutes the boy suspected that all was not right, and in the presence of the clerks of the house, the sealed package was broken open and found to contain slips of blank paper and two coppers. The valise was also opened, and found to be filled with new hay. The swindle was apparent. Up to a late hour last night the scoundrel had not been arrested. A description of him is in the hands of the police.—Cincinnati Gazette.

Died while Dressing for a Ball—Miss Laura Shields, who resided in Liberty street, went up to her room on the evening of July 4th to dress for a ball, to be given at Union, on Broadway. When the gentleman came who was to accompany her, she had not come down stairs. Her mother called her, but she did not come, though nearly an hour passed in waiting for her. At length her mother went to the door and rapped, but no answer was returned, and she had locked the door. They then became alarmed and forced the door, when Laura was found lying upon the floor, nearly dressed for the ball and dead. She appeared to be in perfect health in the evening at tea. She was buried in the clothes they found her in on Monday.—Cin. Gaz. of Friday.

A City with Twelve Thousand Inhabitants Destroyed.—On the 1st of May, the City of Shiraz, in Persia, was destroyed, with 12,000 of its inhabitants, by the shock of an earthquake. This is the second city in Persia, and in former years had a population of 40,000 persons, but an earthquake in 1824 nearly destroyed it. It was formerly a place of great beauty, and is celebrated by the Persian poet Hafiz, who was a native of Shiraz, for its beauty and fertility. Since the earthquake of 1824, it has greatly declined in both, most of its public structures having been ruined by that calamity.

Explosion of a Cannon, and Miraculous Escape.—During the celebration on the 4th, at Williamsport, Pa., Robert Ralston was on the stand in front of the Court-house, and had been speaking about six minutes to an audience which had left the house on account of the extreme heat, when a cannon burst on the mound in the rear. A piece, weighing about thirty pounds, carried away part of the brick jamb of the Judges' window, the casing and the entire sash. It fell by the council table. Another piece went over the Methodist church. Fortunately no one was injured.

☞At Cincinnati on the Fourth of July, a man named Ames mortally wounded his relative, a Mr. Richardson, in an affray—a young man named Richardson shot another named Wade, killing him—a riot occurred between a gang of rowdies and a German military company, in which several persons were severely injured—a man was fatally stabbed at a ball—a man named McNeely had a rib broken in a fight—six women and children injured by being thrown from a wagon—during an exhibition of fireworks a stage gave way, precipitating several hundred people to the ground, and injuring many, and besides this there were four fires, a number of small fights, four serious accidents by fire works, several deaths by drowning, and a number of narrow escapes, &c. Truly, Cincinnati must be an attractive place on a holiday.

Horrible Parricide.—The Wabash (Indiana) Express, of the 6th instant, contains an account of a deplorable event, which took place a few days previous, near Wahoo, in Vigo county, Indiana. Thomas Mewhinney, aged 60, quarreled with his son John, aged 30, while both were drinking whiskey. During the fray, John stabbed his father to the heart. The old man told John to take a horse and leave the country, as he did not wish to have his son hang. The father died, and the son is an outcast.

☞Sarah Johnson, a slave, has been convicted of arson at Louisville, Ky., and sentenced to receive two hundred lashes.

THE ADAMS SENTINEL.

GETTYSBURG:

Monday, July 18th, 1853.

WHIG STATE TICKET.

For Canal Commissioner,
MOSES POWNALL, of Lancaster.
For Auditor General,

For Surveyor General,
CHRISTIAN MEYERS, Clarion.

☞We are authorized to announce, that Col. JAMES L. NEELY, of Straban, is a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the decision of the Whig County Convention.

☞We are authorized to announce, that JOHN C. ELLIS, Esq., of New Oxford, is a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the decision of the Whig County Convention

☞We are authorized to announce, that DAVID MELLINGER, Esq., of East Berlin, is a candidate for nomination as State Senator, subject to the decision of the Whig County Convention.

The Rail Road.

The Engineers have been engaged since Wednesday last, in surveying the several contemplated routes for the Gettysburg Railroad. Nothing definite in the matter, has, of course, been ascertained as yet.

Bold Robbery!

On Monday night last, the Watch-maker's shop of Mr. WM. FRAZER, of this borough, was robbed of a large number of valuable watches. Circumstances rendering it very certain, that the perpetrator of the robbery was a young man, a foreigner, named LOUIS LAVINIA, who had been in the employ of Mr. Frazer for a short time, and who disappeared that evening, he was pursued, and arrested the next day near Sharpsburg, Md., and eighteen watches were found on his person, which had been abstracted from Mr. Frazer's shop, several of them valuable gold levers. He was committed to Hagerstown prison, where he awaits the requisition of the Governor of Pennsylvania. He will probably be brought here in a day or two.

Adams County Ahead!

We learn that our County Treasurer, Mr. Warren, has paid into the State Treasury the full quota of State Tax for Adams county in advance of all the other counties of the State, "as usual."

Beat this who can!

Mr. JOSEPH WIBLE, near this place, has left two stalks of oats with us, the heads of which are about 18 inches in length, and well filled.

☞A meeting of the friends of a Prohibitory Liquor law was held in the Courthouse on Friday last—at which several addresses were delivered, and resolutions passed.—The proceedings came to hand too late for publication this week.

Cholera in Emmitsburg.

This alarming disease, we learn, has broken out in Emmitsburg, and since Thursday last there have been five deaths—amongst whom we have heard the names of Mr. Duphorn and Mr. Moritz. There were two new cases yesterday. Great caution should be observed now, as regards cleanliness, and indulgence in unripe fruit or other improper food.

☞R. W. Middleton, formerly of this place, has been retained as Clerk in the Second Auditor's office, at Washington, at a salary of $1,200.

The President.

President PIERCE, accompanied by several members of his Cabinet, left Washington on Monday, to be present at the opening of the Crystal Palace at New York on Thursday last. At Baltimore, Philadelphia, & indeed every point on the route, he was received in an enthusiastic manner, and that attention was paid to him by all parties, which is so becoming towards the head of this great Republic. His remarks upon every occasion when called for, were very appropriate, and well turned. At Philadelphia, a splendid banquet was given to him by the city authorities, which was highly honorable to them, as they are the political opponents of the President.

More Specie Going!

The steamer Africa sailed from N. York on Wednesday last, for Liverpool, with 88 passengers, and nearly Nine Hundred Thousand Dollars in Specie!

☞Mr. Wise, the aeronaut, thinks that with an expenditure of $25,000 he can construct a balloon with which he can cross the Atlantic in 48 hours.

☞The sale of the Main Line of our State works, is agitated quite strongly by a number of Journals of both parties in various sections of the State, and it appears evident that at the next session of the Legislature a determined effort will be made to carry the proposition.

Fire at York, Pa.

On Saturday week, a fire broke out at York, which consumed two stables belonging to Mr. George Welsh, on East Market street, and four others belonging to the Hon. D. Durkee, John Herr, Charles Nes, and P. A. & S. Small. A horse belonging to Mr. Welsh perished in the flames. The fire originated in consequence of two small children thoughtlessly kindling a fire with lucifer matches in Mr. W's stable.

Opening of the Crystal Palace.

On Thursday last, the President of the U. States reached New York, and was welcomed at Castle Garden by the Mayor, to whom he responded in a neat and appropriate speech, which was received with great enthusiasm. The assemblage was immense, and the procession which was formed, was full an hour in passing the Battery.—Throughout the entire route the streets were jammed with masses of people. At 2 o'clock, the cortege reached the Crystal Palace, and the ceremonies of opening were commenced by prayer by Rev. Bishop Wainwright, followed by an anthem sung by the New York Harmonic, and accompanied by the National Guard Band.—The President was then welcomed by Theodore Sedgwick in a neat address, to which the President replied; and the ceremonies were closed with Handel's celebrated hallelujah chorus from the "Messiah," which, sung by an immense chorus, produced a magnificent musical effect. The grand city banquet took place on Friday night, and the President was to return to Washington on Saturday.

☞President Pierce and Gen. Scott met in the street at New York on Thursday, and had an interesting interview—the crowd, in the meantime, cheering them alternately.

☞The Cholera has re-appeared at Williamsport, Md. For a week previous to Thursday last, there had been an almost entire cessation; but on that day a number of new cases occurred, and there is a general alarm on the subject, several deaths having taken place. The Faculty of the College of St. James, near Hagerstown, have resolved to terminate the session two weeks earlier than usual, in consequence of the re-appearance of the epidemic at Williamsport.

☞The new rolling mill nearly completed at Danville, by the Montour Iron Company, was destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon. Loss very heavy.

☞While a party of twelve ladies were in bathing the other day, at Newport, the horse ran away with the wagon containing all their clothes! Imagine their feelings! They were obliged, in the words of the song, to "wait for the wagon!"

☞Thomas W. Hellen has received the nomination of the Democratic party at Baltimore for Sheriff of that county. This nomination was the result of an election held by the party on Thursday—Mr. Hellen receiving the majority of the votes cast.

☞A curious movement has been lately made in Baltimore by the German born citizens resident there, and it appears to excite considerable comment. It seems that these Baltimore Germans have held a convention, and "organized to advise the German voting community of Baltimore how to cast their votes at the next elections." They have, through their secretary, inquired of each of the candidates now before the people of Baltimore for office, whether he "is convinced of the justice and necessity of their organization," and if he "openly pledges himself to represent them in Congress, etc., according to the laws of equality and justice, without any preference to native born American citizens."

☞Two men near Lacon, Illinois, stole what they supposed to be a bottle of liquor, last week, and drank in such haste that they did not discover until too late what it contained. It was nitric acid, procured for galvanizing. But a moment elapsed before tehy fell to the earth in excruciating agony, and died in awful torment.

Eighty Miles an Hour.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company own 43 locomotives, of which twelve are of a capacity equal to a speed of 80 miles an hour. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad have 141 locomotives, some of which are of equal speed. This immense velocity has been attained through the active competition of the Railroad Companies, who have spared no expense in rewarding construction for costly experiments.

Wheeling and her Railroads—The city of Wheeling has become quite a focus at which concentrate railroad lines running in every direction. The Times of Monday says—

The contracts for the railroad from here to Marietta will be let on Wednesday next. The fifth road into Wheeling, which will then be all under contract.

☞A little girl was stung to death by hornets, near Fort Ancient, Ohio, on a recent Sunday. Her brother stoned the nest, and she became the victim of the infuriated insects.

☞Throughout the whole of Virginia, where internal improvements have thus far penetrated, there has been a great advance in the price of lands. In many counties, particularly in the West, the advance has been from 50 to 100 per cent.

Again in Slavery.—Mr. Orville Thomas, of Louisiana, while in Cincinnati recently, on his way to the North, liberated two of his servants, who were anxious to be free. A few days ago he returned to that city, and the two liberated slaves insisted on going back again into slavery, in Louisiana, in preference to being free in Cincinnati.—They are now on their way to their old home in Louisiana.

☞One of our exchanges tells of a lazy genius, who being asked, as he lay sunning himself on the grass, what was the height of his ambition, replied—"To marry a rich widow that's got a cough!"

Late from Europe.

Large Advance in Breadstuffs.

The steamer Arabia arrived at N. York on Wednesday, bringing dates to the 2nd instant.

Breadstuffs had largely advanced, and were in active demand. Flour had advanced 1s. 6d. per bbl. during the week, and white corn 1s. per quarter. Canal flour 26 s.; Ohio 26s. 6d.

The last account in regard to the threatened war in the East of Europe, is that the news of the rejection by Turkey of the last ultimatum of Russia had reached St. Petersburg on the 24th; and that the Emperor has made a personal declaration to the English and French Ambassadors, expressed in the strongest language, stating that even the destruction of his fleets would not prevent his invading Turkey and obtaining reparation. The fourth division of the Russian army had been ordered to enter Moldavia. The Russian force on the line of the Black Sea amounts to 160,000 men.

A Murderer Escaped.

It is stated that Alexander Hutchinson, confined in the Blair County Jail, under sentence of death, escaped recently. He was sentenced about two years ago, for the murder of a negro, at the Holidaysburg basin, growing out of a dispute on a canal boat. The murder was cool and deliberate, the culprit expressing his conviction that it was of little account to shoot a "nigger." Gov. JOHNSTON refused to sign his death warrant, and Gov. BIGLER did the same.

The Swan Case.

The case of Mr. Swan, charged with the murder of Mr. Sprigg, of Cumberland, will be tried at Hagerstown at a special term of the Circuit Court, commencing on Tuesday next. Mr. Tyson, an eminent lawyer of Ellicott's Mills, has been selected as Judge, and has consented to preside. The trial will excite considerable interest, as heretofore some loop-hole has always been discovered in the law to enable the prisoner to escape a fair trial. He has a very wealthy and influential relationship in Maryland, and no means will be left unemployed to effect his acquittal. Contrary to all law and precedent, he is now out on bail, while murderers of the common grade in point of wealth and position, are confined to their cells for trial.

☞On Wednesday week, a steamer arrived at Milwaukee, from Chicago, with 734 passengers, 506 of which were German and Norwegian emigrants, on their way to settle in the interior of the State of Wisconsin.

☞A fire occurred in Newark, N. J. on Tuesday night, which destroyed Ripley's Planing-mill—loss $100,000; also, Bowen's Lumber-yard—loss $30,000; and an extensive Trunk-factory—loss $15,000. Only a small insurance.

☞Mr Crampton, the British Minister, who left Washington several days ago for Halifax, sailed for that place from Boston on the 6th inst. His visit to Halifax has in view the amicable settlement of the fishery question.

Dining Service for the President's House.—A beautiful breakfast, dinner, dessert & tea service, of American porcelain, has just been finished in New York for the President's House. It includes handsomely engraved and richly cut table glass. The dining service numbers 450 pieces, and the glass 55 dozen. The whole cost is $1,500.

☞Counterfeit dollars and half dollars, difficult to detect, are said to be in circulation in Wheeling; they ring as clearly as the genuine.

Counterfeits.—The Cincinnati Gazette says there was never a time when so many counterfeit notes were in circulation. It supposes some $100 per day are received in regular business, and thrown out at the various banking houses in that city, when offered for deposit.

☞The number of prisoners on the 1st inst., in the Lancaster county Prison, was 55. Convicts, 18; for trial, 23; vagrants, 14.

The Cholera in Cuba.—The accounts from the interior of Cuba are quite disheartening. On one plantation they have lost 280 negroes from cholera. The Chinese have also suffered terribly. In some instances the whole number taken on the estate have been swept off.

Lightning.—There has been this season, an unusual number of persons, horses and cattle killed, and also a large amount of property destroyed by lightning. We are not a little astonished to see so many valuable dwellings, public edifices, well-stored barns, and manufactories of great value, without properly constructed conductors; particularly so, when the most approved scientific article of lightning rods can be had at very low prices, and put up at a trifling cost; and that, too, in such neat and tasteful shapes as to become ornaments as well as useful appendages.

Struck by Lightning.—Mr. James C. Skiles, merchant, of Salisbury, Lancaster county, was killed by lightning, on last Sunday week. Mr Skiles was on his way to his father's, and meeting Mr. Murray and family driving in a carriage, he stopped to adjust the gears of the horse, when he and the horse were struck dead,—those in the carriage receiving no injury. Mr. Skiles was a very worthy young man;—he was married about a year ago.

Starvation in Spain.

It appears that the miserable condition to which Ireland was reduced a few years ago, is paralleled by what is now taking place in Spain. A writer in a French paper says:

"In vain the venerable Bishop of St. Jacques, in presence of more than six hundred unfortunates, resembling moving corpses, who daily besiege his gate, has sold his mules and his carriage. In vain has he reduced himself and his servants to the merest necessaries, in order that he might give the rest to those who perish of hunger. All that he or the other bishops and clergy, all that the government can do, according to the Esperanza, is but a drop of water to extinguish the conflagration. When we speak of the Government, however, we must remember that the last contribution made by it of 3,000,000 of reals had not been distributed. In the mountains, the starving die by dozens, and in many places fevers of the most dangerous character are joined to the famine. Hundreds of sick expire for want of nourishment and medicine. The streets of our cities are encumbered with old men, women and children, with the visages of corpses, covered with miserable rags, and even worse, troubling themselves no longer except to die in quiet, and imploring with loud cries the succors of the public charity. At the gates of the Arch-episcopal Palace more than a thousand people wait for daily bread; and I hear that one day lately 4,500 poor assembled to receive the alms distributed in the city by one gentleman.

California.

The advices from California as received by the Illinois, on Sunday, are two weeks later. The Illinois brought nearly $2,000,000 in gold. Business at San Francisco was more animated. No less than three duels have been fought at or near San Francisco, since the previous advices. In one case, the parties were Senator Guinn and Representative McCorkle. Three shots were fired without any damage, when the matter was adjusted. In the second case, the parties were Edward Toby, Clerk to the Board of Assistant Aldermen of San Francisco, and Dr. Alfred Crane, late of Alexandria, La. At the second fire, Dr. Crane was shot through the body, and died on Sunday.—In the third, the parties were Thomas Hoyes, Assistant Alderman, and John Nugent, the editor of the Herald. They fought with pistols at a distance of twenty paces, and at the second shot, Nugent was wounded. When the steamer left, Nugent's wound was considered critical. Still another was talked of between Mr. Rush, of the Express, and Mr. Stibger, of the Herald.

The advices from Hong Kong are to the 27th of April, and from Shanghai to the 15th. The capture of Nankin was confirmed—also, the subsequent defeat of the rebels. At Nankin, the chiefs of the insurgents was crowned Emperor. A force of 30,000 men had been sent from Pekin, and the Imperialists were determined to make a last effort.

The August Elections.

The approaching August elections seem to attract little attention during the present calm in national politics—a calm and quiet most refreshing after the hurricane of last fall. As journalists, however, we must remind our readers that elections will take place next month in the States of Kentucky, Missouri, Arkansas, Alabama, Texas, Tennessee and North Carolina In the two latter States the elections willbe held on Thursday the 4th of August, and in the others on Monday the 1st ot Au't. In Kentucky and Arkansas members of Congress and the State Legislature are to be chosen; in Missouri and N. Carolina members of Congress, and in each of the States of Alabama, Texas and Tennessee, a Governor, Legislature and members of Congress are to be elected—Party lines, except in Texas, are pretty strictly drawn, and in Kentucky, Missouri and Tennessee, the canvass is exceedingly animated. In the latter State Messrs. Henry and Johnston, the Whig and Democratic candidates for Governor, have taken the stump and thoroughly canvassed every county. Linn Boyd, late speaker of the House of Representatives, is a candidate for re-election from the first district of Kentucky, but meets with bitter opposition from a partisan of his own party. In Missouri the Democracy are divided into Benton and anti-Benton factions, who are more bitter against each other than against the Whigs. Only two members of Congress are to be chosen, however, they being the additional members to which the State is entitled under the late apportionment act. The other five were elected last year before the above mentioned act was passed, and the Legislature subsequently divided the State into seven districts. The election this year is held in the St. Louis and Palmyra districts, the first of which is Democratic and the latter Whig.

Heroic Act of a Jail Keeper.

We lately mentioned that, on the 4th inst., the prisoners confined in the Cincinnati jail attempted to make their escape.—A Cincinnati paper gives the following account of the scene:

On the evening preceding the fourth of July an attempt was made by the chain gang to escape from durance vile, by cutting a hole through the ceiling of their cell, climbing from thence to the garret, and then cutting another hole through the outer wall, near the roof. This they had nearly effected before they were overheard. However, their noise awoke Mr. Millage, one of the turnkeys, who, seizing a club, immediately hastened to the roof, where he encountered one or two who had already made their way through the aperture made, preparing to descend outside the wall. A blow from the club in the hands of Mr. M. laid one of them low, while the other was brought to terms by a well-directed shot in the arm. Following up his advantage, he sprang to the edge of the roof, immediately above the aperture, assuring the affrighted birds that the first one who protruded his head would most assuredly lose what little brains he had left. By this time assistance arrived, and the whipped scoundrels, one of whom is Billy Adams, the notorious thief, were re-escorted to safe quarters.

☞The steamship Illinois has arrived at New York from Chagres, with $1,855,711 in gold, and 560 passengers.

Marriages.—There were 586 marriages, 643 births and 318 deaths registered in the Register's office, Lancaster, Pa., from July 1st 1852, to July 1st, 1853.

A Scene of Poverty, Drunkenness, and Starvation.

Yesterday we were invited by a kind-hearted philanthropist, to visit Thatcher court. We found there a small wooden building, one story under ground, and one story and an attic above ground. The basement story is divided into three apartments, the first story into four, and the attic into the same number. In each of the rooms above ground we found a family, all in a miserable condition. We visited a family who occupied one of the upper rooms.—Here we found a man, his wife, and two children lodged. This little room, which is just twice the size of a common bedstead, we found in the same filthy state. The man and woman were both drunk, and have been so most of the time for the last three weeks.

The bed which accommodated the four, was a bundle of rags in a most shocking condition. No furniture, excepting the bed, of any kind was to be seen, but we learned that the family had a right to cook in one of the basements—when they had anything to cook—where they had a chair and part of a table. An empty bottle, which had contained spirits, was standing near the miserable father of this miserable family. The children had no food during the day, and they said they were starving. A little girl four years old, and a little boy of two years, were the unfortunate children of this couple. Our companion kindly remonstrated with the burly, hearty-looking drunkard and his miserable looking wife, but it did no good. They appeared lost to shame, and the willing victims to their appetites. The oldest of the children was then taken to a shop near by, and some food purchased for her and her little brother. She took the food home, and as soon as she entered the house, her father robbed his starving children of the food given to them, and ate it himself.—Bost. Herald.

Queer Case.

On Sunday evening last, some persons walking on the railroad, about half a mile north of the depot, in Northampton, heard groans from some one in the grass, a short distance from the track. Upon going to the spot, they discovered an Irish girl apparently about 20 years of age. She was taken up and conveyed to a house, a doctor procured, and in about an hour afterwards she was delivered of a living male child, which died on the Monday morning following.—The girl stated that she came from Springfield, in the afternoon train on Saturday, and was to return in the evening, but missed the train and so wandered about. Having no acquaintances, and becoming sick and tired, she lay down in the grass, where she remained from Saturday to Sunday night, (exposed on Sunday afternoon to a shower of rain,) where she was discovered as above stated.—Springfield Republican.

A Knowing Horse.—The New Haven Republican is responsible for the following:—

Two carriages, one double and the other single, were near being destroyed, with their passengers, yesterday afternoon, on the New York Railroad. The drivers did not see the passenger train until it was close upon them. The double carriage, however, got over the track. The single horse had his front feet almost upon the rail. He reared upon his hind legs and stood thus like a statue till the train passed by! It came so near him that it struck the projecting shafts and broke them, but did no other injury. We understood our informant, a respectable gentleman, to say that he witnessed all this.

Distressing Accident.—At Albany, on the 4th, Mr. John Pemberton placed in front of his house about four pounds of damaged powder, in the shape of a mound, and while in the act of placing a piece of lighted punk in the centre of it, his daughter being near him and looking over it, a spark of fire fell upon it, when the powder exploded, enveloping her in flames. Her clothing was nearly burnt off her person, and she was taken into the house blind and severely burned. Her father was badly burned about his face and hands, but is not considered dangerous. Miss Pemberton is about 24 years of age, and her recovery is very doubtful.

Daring Outrage and Robbery.—On the night of the 25th ult., a house nearly two miles from Fetterman, Va., occupied by 4 sisters of the name of Luzadde, was broken open by a gang of robbers, armed with butcher knives and clubs. One of the sisters was seized and severely choked, and the other three threatened with death if they gave the alarm. They then compelled them to give them all the money (some ten dollars,) they had in the house, when they left the premises. The sisters, who have lived alone for many years and are quite old, hid themselves in the woods until morning, when they proceeded to the house of a neighbor and related the facts. Subsequently two men, named Fisk and Boyd, were arrested on suspicion.

A Train Smashed—Many Persons Injured.—As the passenger train of the Southern Michigan Railroad was within four miles of Toledo on the morning of the 4th, an axletree on the baggage car snapped in two. The collision threw the first passenger car forty feet from the track with great violence, smashing it to pieces, and reducing it to an unsightly pile of broken wood, iron and glass. How a single person escaped wound or death is astonishing.—One man was mortally wounded. A huge splinter struck him below the breast, tearing out his entrails in a horrible manner. Another man had his leg broken, a third a foot smashed, a fourth a severe contusion on the head, which will probably reduce him to a condition of permanent idiocy.—Some others were injured and bruised.—All were shocked and hurt more or less.

The second passenger car was thrown across the track and broken in the middle, and came near throwing its inmates on the track. A boy had his arm broken. A lady had her head badly cut. A man received a severe wound in the side from broken glass. A gentleman who was in the second car says the shock of the collision was tremendous, suddenly lifting the people from their seats, and throwing them headlong eight or ten feet, over the backs of their neighbors' seats.—Cleveland Forest City.

A Daguerreotype for 50 Cents,

CAN be had at WEAVER'S GALLERY, in Chambersburg street. Pictures taken in all kinds of weather, and will be put up at this Gallery in all the different styles of the day, at prices varying from 50 cts. to $6. So now is the time for obtaining the cheapest likenesses ever offered in this place. Persons will find it to their advantage to call soon while the opportunity is before them, and in order to secure a satisfactory likeness, subjects are requested to wear dark apparel. Gentlemen should wear black, with black vest and cravat, and ladies should avoid dresses of pink and blue. Plaid and contrasting colors are very suitable for children.

I return my sincere thanks to my numerous friends for their past favors, and solicit a continuance of the same, hoping by strict attention to business to satisfy the tastes of all who may visit my gallery.

NEW GOODS.
S. FAHNESTOCK & SONS

HAVE just returned from the Cities with one of the largest and most desirable stock of

FOREIGN & DOMESTIC
DRY GOODS,

ever offered to the public. Having selected them with care, we feel assured that we can offer to those who favor us with their patronage, as choice and desirable an assortment, both as regards style, quality, or price, as has ever been brought to this market. Having purchased most of our goods from the manufacturers, we are determined to sell at astonishingly low prices, believing that the old motto, relating to small profits and quick sales, is true to the letter. Knowing that our stock will compare favorably with any in the county, we invite the attention of those about purchasing, confident that Bargains such as are rarely offered, can be secured by giving us an early call. Our extensive assortment, consisting of

DRY GOODS,
Groceries, Queensware, and Hardware,

of every variety, and at prices to suit purchasers, should be examined before purchasing elsewhere. We deem it needless to enumerate articles, as our stock comprises every article in our line. Call early and select from the new Stock at the sign of the RED FRONT.

Still Greater Improvement in Grain Drills.

PRICE REDUCED TO SIXTY DOLLARS!

MOORE'S PATENT SEED AND GRAIN PLANTER.

THIS Machine was Patented July 2, 1850, and has received the highest premium at all the Exhibitions where it has ever been contested, including Newcastle county, Delaware, Agricultural Society, October 9th, 1850; Philadelphia and Delaware County Agricultural Society, October 17th, 1850; Maryland State Agricultural Society, October 23d, 1850, and October 24th, 1851; and Michigan State Agricultural Society, September 25th, 1851.

Is not liable to get out of repair, is exceedingly simple in its construction, will sow point rows in all irregular shaped fields, and possesses superior advantages to all others, in the ease and quickness with which it can be regulated to sow any desired quantity of Grain per acre, while the draft upon the Horses is 25 per cent. lighter, and consequently, with the same labor, can seed one-fourth more ground per day, than with most other machines now in use. The objection so common to Drilling Machines of becoming choked if the seed is not perfectly cleaned, is entirely obviated in the Simple and Peculiar Construction of this Drill, as white caps and short straw will not interfere in the least with

THE REGULAR DISTRIBUTION OF THE SEED.

It is warranted to distribute the seed evenly; to sow any quantity per acre commonly sown broadcast; to not cut or break the grains; to be well made with good materials and durable with proper care.

Having sold about 400 of the above Drills the past season, all of which met with the unqualified approbation of the purchasers; and after careful and thorough experiments which have resulted in still greater Improvements, we now feel warranted in saying that Moore's Patent Seed and Grain Planter improved, is superior to any other machine FOR THE PURPOSE, NOW IN THE MARKET.

Having made arrangements to furnish 1,000 of the above Machines for sale, the coming season, we shall be prepared, at all times, to supply orders without delay.

All orders addressed to the undersigned will warrant prompt attention.

DIGESTIVE FLUID,
OR, GASTRIC JUICE.

PREPARED from Rennet, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D., Philadelphia, Pa.

"I DIGEST." Such is the true meaning of the word Pepsin. It is the chief element, or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming a True Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.

This is Nature's own Remedy for an unhealthy Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It contains no Alcohol, Bitters, Acids, or nauseous Drugs. It is extremely agreeable to the taste, and may be taken by the most feeble patients who cannot eat a water cracker without acute distress. Beware of Drugged Imitations. Pepsin is not a Drug.

Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water will digest or dissolve Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the Stomach.

$500 CHALLENGE.

WHATEVER concerns the health and happiness of a people is at all times of the most valuable importance. I take it for granted that every person will do all in their power to save the lives of their children, and that every person will endeavor to promote their own health at all sacrifices. I feel it to be my duty to solemnly assure you that WORMS, according to the opinion of the most celebrated Physicians, are the primary causes of a large majority of diseases to which children and adults are liable; if you have an appetite continually changeable from one kind of food to another, Bad Breath, Pain in the Stomach, Picking at the Nose, Hardness and Fullness of the Belly, Dry Cough, Slow Fever, Pulse Irregular—remember that all these denote WORMS, and you should at once apply the remedy:—

HOBENSACK'S WORM SYRUP.

An article founded upon Scientific Principles, compounded with purely vegetable substances, being perfectly safe when taken, and can be given to the most tender infant with decided beneficial effect where Bowel Complaints and Diarrhea have made them weak and debilitated; the Tonic properties of my Worm Syrup are such, that it stands without an equal in the catalogue of medicines, in giving tone and strength to the Stomach, which makes it an Infallible remedy for those afflicted with Dyspepsia; the astonishing cures performed by this Syrup after Physicians have failed, is the best evidence of its superior efficacy over all others.

THE TAPE WORM!

This is the most difficult Worm to destroy of all that infest the human system; it grows to an almost indefinite length, becoming so coiled and fastened in the Intestines and Stomach, affecting the health so sadly as to cause St. Vitus' Dance, Fits, &c., that those afflicted seldom if ever suspect that it is Tape Worm hastening them to an early grave. In order to destroy this worm, a very energetic treatment must be pursued, it would therefore be proper to take 6 to 8 of my Liver Pills so as to remove all obstructions, that the Worm Syrup may act direct upon the Worm, which must be taken in doses of 2 Tablespoonfuls 3 times a day. These directions followed have never been known to fail in curing the most obstinate case of Tape Worm.

HOBENSACK'S LIVER PILLS.

No part of the system is more liable to disease than the LIVER, it serving as a filterer to purify the blood, or giving the proper secretion to the bile; so that any wrong action of the Liver affects the other important parts of the system, and results variously, in Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, &c. We should, therefore, watch every symptom that might indicate a wrong action of the Liver.—These Pills being composed of Roots and Plants furnished by nature to heal the sick: Namely, 1st, An EXPECTORANT, which augments the secretion from the Pulmonary mucous membrane, or promotes the discharge of secreted matter. 2d, An ALTERATIVE, which changes in some inexplicable and insensible manner the certain morbid action of the system. 3d, A TONIC, which gives tone and strength to the nervous system, renewing health and vigor to all parts of the body. 4th, A CATHARTIC, which acts in perfect harmony with the other ingredients, and operating on the Bowels, and expelling the whole mass of corrupt and vitiated matter, and purifying the Blood, which destroys disease and restores health.

TO FEMALES.

You will find these Pills an invaluable medicine in many complaints to which you are subject. In obstructions either total or partial, they have been found of inestimable benefit, restoring their functional arrangements to a healthy action, purifying the blood and other fluids so effectually as to put to flight all complaints which may arise from female irregularities, as headache, giddiness, dimness of sight, pain in the side, back, &c.

None genuine unless signed J. N. Hobensack, all others being base imitations.
